HOFFA GIVEN CLEAN BILL

Vote Win Sure

AFL-CIO Charges Ousted

Teamsters Action

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Teamsters convention delegates dominated by James R. Hoffa Wednesday night listened to a detailing of union corruption charges leveled against him — then gave Hoffa a clean bill of health.

A move to launch a union investigation of the scandals—as developed before the Senate Rackets Committee and involving Hoffa, retiring union president Dave Beck and other Teamster bosses — was booed and shouted down.

The cleanup move was seconded on the convention floor by Thomas J. Haggerty, one of three candidates opposing Hoffa in elections due Thursday for Teamsters Union control. The motion was offered by Jeffrey Cohelan, Oakland, Calif., delegate. He said the convention could not afford to ignore the charges.

The overwhelming vote to clear Hoffa, so far as the Teamsters Union is concerned, along with the lack of support given Haggerty's cleanup move, showed Hoffa a practically cinch winner for the union's top job.

For two hours delegates listened in absolute silence as Larry Steinberg, head of a Toledo Teamsters local, read a 64-page report from the AFL-CIO Ethical practices Committee detailing the bulk of the Senate Investigating Committee's charge against Hoffa and other Teamster leaders.

Refused

Then pandemonium broke loose among delegates. Although it was the dinner hour, they refused to break up the session and went on to vote down the scandal cleanup proposal and finally wipe the entire list of corruption charges from the convention record.

There were no record votes, but there was no doubting the result was overwhelming.

The action almost guarantees Teamsters ouster from the AFL-CIO in December. The federation had directed that in order for the Teamsters to conform with ethical standards, Hoffa, Beck and others involved in the corruption charges would have to be booted out of the union.

Hoffa took the convention floor after the voting and denied there was any basis for corruption charges against him. He denied having misused union funds, and defended his associations with New York labor racketeer Johnny Dio.

On Shoulders

In an earlier convention demonstration Hoffa had been carried on the shoulders of some delegates.

In the morning session, the convention seated the bulk of the delegates from locals which chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee had charged had improperly selected their convention representatives.

The convention okeyed credentials of the delegates from about two-thirds of the locals cited by Rackets Committee Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) as having probably violated union rules in naming their representatives.

The action came as Hoffa cleared the decks for showdown voting expected Thursday for new union officers and control of the giant, scandal-scarred union.

Hoffa continued to be the leading contender to succeed Dave Beck as union president, but faced three opponents who were seeking to combine forces. For the first time the anti-Hoffa group began proposing cleanup moves on the convention floor as demanded by the AFL-CIO.

Enrollment Up At Chadron, Kearney

. . . Peru Only College With Drop

The final enrollment figures for Nebraska's four state normal colleges shows that enrollment is up over last year's figures at Chadron and Kearney, about the same as last year for Wayne, and down at Peru, but all four colleges report a substantial drop in out-of-state students.

Each of the college presidents attributes the drop in out-of-state enrollment to the increase in tuition which went from $140 a year to $250 a year for non-residents.

The tuition for residents went from $100 a year to $150.

Dr. Herbert Cushing, president of Kearney State Teachers College, pointed out however, that Kearney's out-of-state enrollment was a very small factor in that college's over-all enrollment figures.

The comparative enrollment figures for the four colleges shows:

	1957	1956
Kearney	1,351	1,310
Wayne	1,026	1,022
Chadron	623	542
Peru	426	521

Full-Time Students

These enrollment figures represent on-campus students, and nearly all are full-time students. Kearney, Wayne and Peru said that from 10 to 15 students in each of their schools are taking less than 12 hours, but Chadron's figures represent only full-time students.

A breakdown of the comparative non-student enrollment figures for each of the schools shows:

	1957	1956
Kearney	9	28
Wayne	197	281
Chadron	94	126
Peru	50	77

Because of the locations of three of the colleges, Wayne in the northeast corner of Nebraska, Peru in the southeast corner of the state, and Chadron in the northwest corner, out-of-state enrollments play a considerable factor in over-all enrollments.

Non-Resident Loss Big

Peru had the largest drop in non-resident enrollment with a 35 per cent loss, Wayne lost nearly 30 per cent and Chadron about 26 per cent.

Dr. Neal Gomon, president of Peru State Normal College, said the "great decrease in out-of-state students can definitely be attributed to the increase in tuition."

Dr. William Brandenburg, president of Wayne State Normal College, said that while that college's drop in non-resident students is sizeable, "we are glad we were able to hold our own" in the general enrollment figures.

"Wayne was the school with the big non-resident enrollment," Dr. Brandenburg said, "and we were supposed to have the big decrease."

(For a story on how scholastic standards affected enrollment, see Page 8.)

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. Christiansen

After Son's Operation

Mrs. Gertrude K. Christiansen, 31, of 2318 So. 10th, died Wednesday following a heart attack.

Mrs. Christiansen was stricken while returning from the hospital where her three year-old son, Michael, had just undergone a major operation. She died shortly after being taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Christiansen

The surgery undergone by Michael Wednesday was to remove a very rare malignant tumor of the bladder, the physician reported. The doctor said the boy's condition was satisfactory but that he was still seriously ill.

Born in Lincoln, Mrs. Christiansen had lived here all her life. She attended Lincoln public schools, was graduated from Lincoln High School, and had two year's nurses training.

She was president of the Ladies Day Out, YWCA group.

Surviving are her husband, Raymond E. Christiansen; son, Michael Alan, at home; daughter, Linda Kay, also at home; and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Giffin of Lincoln.

Other survivors include an uncle, George Sauer, former University of Nebraska football star and now athletic director at Baylor University.

—President, Faubus Stand Pat—

Ike Aide Hints At Agreement

Adams Says Basis Will Be Found For Withdrawal Of Troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas nor President Eisenhower budged an inch Wednesday in their troops-in-Arkansas deadlock, but a presidential aide held out a measure of hope for agreement.

Sherman Adams, the President's top assistant and one of his closest advisers, said in a Chattanooga news conference:

"In our opinion a basis will be found for the early withdrawal of federal forces from Little Rock.

"I personally believe and certainly hope this will not occur again."

Adams' words offered the only glimmer of hope for any early settlement of one of the grimmest federal-state conflicts in the nation's history.

Faubus said at Little Rock Wednesday he was standing pat on his statement of Tuesday night. This was the one rejected by Eisenhower as inadequate. He wants stronger assurances that the governor will prevent obstruction of federal court orders for the integration of Central High School at Little Rock.

Unyielding

Federal troops and National Guardsmen under federal control are in Little Rock now to enforce the court orders.

The White House Wednesday was as unyielding as Faubus, and press secretary James C. Hagerty said:

"There will be no comment on Gov. Faubus' statement today other than to say that I think the President's statement of last night is more apt than ever."

How is it more apt? Hagerty was asked.

The secretary replied there were several things, notably that the governor had been quoted as saying it was evident that disorders would follow withdrawal of federal troops.

Eisenhower, after reading press reports from Little Rock, went out for a round of golf with Vice President Nixon.

Effect In South

Presidential aide Adams was in Chattanooga for a luncheon with Republican leaders on party finance matters in the Southeast. Adams declined to discuss how Eisenhower's handling of the Little Rock situation would affect the Republican party in the South.

But, of Eisenhower's calling out the troops, Adams said:

"No American could have done so with more reluctance.

"These things should be considered:

"First, the executive department did not originate the (integration) plan. Secondly, the administration is not responsible for the decision of the Supreme Court in this matter.

It's The Law

"But whether we like it or not, it is the law of the land. The President agreed when he took his oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States as indeed did every governor."

Four Southern governors — Hodges of North Carolina, McKeldin of Maryland, Clement of Tennessee and Collins of Florida—thought they had worked out an agreement Tuesday night.

That collapsed, however, Tuesday when Faubus' reception of the proposal failed to satisfy Eisenhower.

Little Rock School Rift Smolders

Faubus Says I've Given Until It Hurts

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus stood fast Wednesday on terms of a school integration compromise already firmly rejected by President Eisenhower. The governor left the next move up to the White House.

"I've given until it hurts," Faubus maintained.

Federalized National Guard troops again patroled Central High School, where tension rose again Wednesday over the classroom presence of the first nine Negroes ever admitted to a white school in Little Rock.

Two white students spoke of a plan to make school life so miserable for the six Negro girls and three boys that they won't want to continue in Central.

Kicked

Two of the Negro boys were shoved about and kicked by white male students in the school corridors during the day. However, the two, with their seven Negro classmates, emerged at the end of the day with no visible marks from the encounter.

The nine laughed and talked as usual when they left school. As they were driven away in a military station wagon, a clap of thunder heralded the advent of a short, heavy autumn downpour.

A court effort to rid Little Rock of federal troops was launched during the day by Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of the prosegregationist League of Central High School Mothers. She has two teen-aged daughters in the school.

In Federal District Court here, Mrs. Jackson sought an injunction against the presence of the troops at the high school. She said they were here unconstitutionally, since neither Gov. Faubus nor the state legislature asked Eisenhower to send them in.

She claimed the troops "Did. . . intimidate, mutilate, bayonet and bludgeon private citizens."

During the day also, Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, accused Faubus of double-crossing himself and three other Southern governors who worked out Tuesday's compromise that fell through. It was intended to end federal troop occupancy in Little Rock.

Frank Bane, an aide to the Southern governors, flew in from Washington during the afternoon and conferred with Faubus. Neither man would reveal the nature of the discussion.

The Yanks will be banking on Shantz for their second win of the current series. Wednesday Milwaukee was beaten by New York 3-1. (See Sports Section).

Poles, Czechs Would Bar Nuclear Weapons

. . . Ask Same Of East, West Germany

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Poland and Czechoslovakia said Wednesday they would bar nuclear weapons from their territories if East and West Germany would do the same.

Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki first made the offer in a policy speech to the U.N. General Assembly. Czechoslovak Foreign Minister Vaclav David joined in.

Rapacki declared Poland was making its declaration after consulting others in the eight-nation Warsaw Communist defense pact. This presumably included the Soviet Union. Of the Warsaw pact countries only Czechoslovakia and Poland border Germany.

Rapacki said plans "being made to equip the West German Army with nuclear weapons" might compel "threatened nations" to decide for strengthening their security. He added Poland wanted to prevent such a development.

Stockpiling

Then, on behalf of his government, he read out a declaration which said:

"The government of the Polish People's Republic declares that, should the two German states express their consent to put into effect the prohibition of production and the stockpiling of atomic and thermonuclear weapons on their territories, the Polish People's Republic is prepared simultaneously to take the same action on her own territory."

David said Czechoslovakia was prepared to associate itself with the Polish move and to "renounce the production and stationing" of atomic weapons on its territory if both Germanies would do that also. Czechoslovakia is a producer of uranium.

$40,000 Buys 1526 N Lot For Parking

A deed filed Wednesday with the County Register of Deeds shows a lot at 1526 N has been purchased by the Lincoln Community Development Co. Inc. for $40,000.

Selling the lot was Samuel B. Warren of Alameda, Calif., a former Lincoln resident. The lot has a 50-foot frontage on N Street, and was occupied by a vacant three-story brick structure until it was torn down recently.

John M. Campbell of Lincoln, president of the firm which purchased the lot, said the site will be graded and opened for use as a parking lot in several weeks. He said future plans for the site have not been determined, but did state that the narrowness of the lot would prohibit building of a permanent parking building there.

Plans Set For:

Dulles, Soviet Meet

Talk Is Scheduled In Secretary's D.C. Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will meet here Saturday to discuss international problems.

The State Department in announcing this Wednesday said Dulles suggested the meeting to "exchange views on various international issues of concern to both the United States and U.S.S.R."

The conference will be at Dulles' home at 4 p.m. (EDT).

A State Department spokesman said in reply to questions that Dulles has "no specific proposals" to present to Gromyko.

He made clear the conference would cover the Middle East as well as the East-West disarmament deadlock.

Foreign Policy

"Topics for the conversations probably will range over the whole spectrum of foreign policy and not concentrate on any particular aspect," said press officer Joseph Reap.

Reap said the meeting was arranged within the last 24 hours through the American delegation at the United Nations Assembly. Gromyko is in New York as head of the Soviet delegation.

The text of the Department announcement:

"The secretary will meet with Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko on Saturday, Oct. 5, at 4 p.m. (EDT) in his home.

U.N. Session

"Mr. Gromyko is now in the United States attending the current session of the United Nations General Assembly and the meeting was arranged at the instance of the secretary in order to permit an exchange of views on various international issues of concern to both the United States and the U.S.S.R.

"This is one of a series of conversations between the Secretary and foreign ministers attending the General Assembly in line with the secretary's desire to take every opportunity to discuss important international issues with foreign statesmen."

NU Advisor Says Creation Of 'Modern' Turkish University Is Long Way Off

By NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writer

Dr. Albin T. Anderson, NU history professor who spent the past two years advising Turks about how to create a university, talks in circles about his recent assignment.

Circles of agreement are growing larger between the Turkish educators and government officials and their American advisors, Anderson reports, but the creation of a modern university on the level with U.S. college standards is still a long way off.

Paradoxically, when University of Nebraska professors were first sent to Turkey two years ago, the circle of agreement was complete. This, Anderson explains, was due to the general terms in which the International Co-operation Administration had made arrangements with the Turkish ministry of education.

When definitions and specifics were discussed the Turks and NU team of professors found their ideas were far from alike.

At present, Anderson said, "I believe we are headed in the right direction, although operating in the great unknown. The circle of agreement is now greater than the area of disagreement."

The university-to-be on which NU faculty members have been advising, will be called the University of Ataturk and will be patterned generally upon the University of Nebraska in administrative structure, teaching and research programs and extension work.

This is a new and slightly shocking concept to Turkish educators from the established universities at Ankara and Istanbul which are modeled after "classical" universities of Europe, Anderson explains.

He commented that although the present Turkish universities have many highly rated departments, often the research and advances in learning "do not pepetrate beyond the university walls."

A university that will disseminate more of its research and education to the level of the people is needed, Anderson points out, "because illiterate and uninformed peoples cannot expect to survive in the ruthless economic competition of the mid-20th century."

DR. ALBIN T. ANDERSON

One major problem in founding the new institution is the caliber and the lack of elementary and secondary schools in the country, and especially in the eastern area which will be served by Ataturk University.

A minimum of students of university level education are now being trained in the eastern area, which means that a great expansion of high school and elementary school facilities is needed before the university itself can grow.

Dr. Anderson believes the hardest lesson of all for NU professor-advisors working on the ICA technical mission to learn is "how to be a guest in a country and yet advise, regulate, and get the work done effectively."

"Personally, I feel the end result of this planning will be a compromise which I hope will include the best of the Turkish culture and the American experience," he added.

A major problem of Turkey—a country which has many problems — is the lack of education. The country is 50 per cent illiterate. At present, Anderson explains, the country is as deficient in educated human resources as it is lacking in other resources.

Another problem directly involving the setting up of the new university is the financial drain placed upon the Turkish government by such welfare projects which do not produce direct revenue.

He explains that Turkey immediately needs some exportable surpluses to trade for goods it needs and does not produce. The university project, along with present road-building, sanitation projects and modernization, may further strain the Turkish economy which is now suffering a serious dollar drain.

"Because of this," he explains, "the U.S. may well find it to be necessary and desirable in the future to provide limited dollar funds for necessary equipment not available in Turkey."

The University of Nebraska is not financially involved in the university planning, Anderson added, but is "providing capital investment in terms of brains."

At present, Turkish educators are studying at the University of Nebraska to prepare for future teaching positions in the new university. The use of American teaching staff at the University of Ataturk is still an unsettled question, but Anderson called the move "highly desirable" to launch the institution, which plans to open its doors to students next fall.

School Children's Third Polio Shot Oct. 14

Final Vaccine Dose Plans Told By City-County Health

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Polio inoculations for Lancaster County school children who received their first two shots at the City-County Health Department last winter will begin Oct. 14 at the Department, 935 R.

Dr. George R. Underwood, Department director, stressed that the shots will be given only to those school children who received their first two shots under the free program started last January. Preschool youths, pregnant women or any other non-school youth from 1 through 19, he said, will not be given free shots until the school children are taken care of.

County rural school students will receive their shots Oct. 14-18. Lincoln students are scheduled for shots Oct. 14-18 and also on Oct. 21.

Thinks Has Enough

Dr. Underwood said he expects the 7,200-shot vaccine shipment received Sept. 30 to take care of all those eligible who still need a third shot. Many persons have already received their third shot from their family physician, he noted. An estimated 33,000 persons received free vaccinations when the first and second shots were given.

Request slips will be provided the schools for distribution to the students who wish to receive the shots. The child's parents must sign the slip. Dr. Underwood said mothers of rural school children who also have pre-school children eligible for their third shot will have to make a second trip to have the pre-school child vaccinated, as only school children are being taken care of during the Oct. 14-21 period.

Others Announced Later

Hours during which the eligible non-students who received their first two shots at the Department may come in for their final inoculation will be announced later, Dr. Underwood said.

The school schedule:

City Public Schools: Individual schools will inform students when they are scheduled for shots.

City Catholic Parochial Schools: Oct. 14, 1-3 p.m.

Emergency Loans Okayed For Sorghum

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said Wednesday it will offer special distress loans on 1957 crop grain sorghums in an effort to prevent a possible sharp drop at harvest time.

These loans are being offered, the department said, because reports from major producing areas in the central and southern great plains indicate that storage is now short and will become scarcer as harvest advances for the record crop.

Only grain stored in acceptable storage is eligible for regular price support loans.

The special loans will be offered where there is a shortage of storage and where grain sorghums can be stored successfully for short periods on the grounds or in temporary structures.

The distress loans will be on a recourse basis at 80 per cent of the regular county support loan rates, which average $1.86 a hundred pounds. The loans will mature in 90 days or next March 31, whichever is earlier.

During this period, farmers will be expected to arrange for adequate on-farm or commercial storage.

Under distress loans, farmers will be responsible for any loss in quantity or quality of grain during the loan period. If farmers deliver the grain in payment of the loan, settlement will be at the market price on the basis of quality and quantity at delivery time.

If the grain sorghums more than satisfy the loan and interest, farmers will receive payment for the difference. If they do not cover the loan obligation, the farmer will pay the difference to the department.

Americans Smoke Peace Pipe As Tour Of Red China Ends

LONDON (AP)—Sixteen young Americans wound up a six-week tour of Red China by smoking a peace pipe at a farewell luncheon Wednesday, the British news agency Reuters reported from Peiping.

They left Peiping by train later for Moscow.

The 16 were among 42 Americans who trekked to Red China after attending a youth festival in Moscow. Five left China earlier and the rest plan to return home later this week.

Shortly before leaving, the 16 Americans gave a luncheon for their Chinese guides and interpreters.

Folk Songs

An American Indian peace pipe was handed around the tables. After lunch the Americans sang American folk songs.

The Americans, who defied U.S. State Department advice not to visit Communist China, received top treatment throughout their tour. Food, accommodations and transport were free.

At the luncheon, the Americans proposed glowing toasts to their hosts, Reuters said. They raised their glasses to "the soldiers of the liberation army who have helped to set this country free."

Some of the Americans, however, have been less impressed than others about what they have seen of Communist rule, Reuters said. There have been reports of stormy, closed meetings of the group, violent words and even one outbreak.

One enraged American was reported to have hurled a heavy glass tumbler at another, forcing him to be hurried to a hospital for gashes in his face and arm.

The original group of 42 divided into cliques but in the end virtually all were united against three who were termed "rightist reactionaries," Reuters said.

Boeing Tags Curtailment As Serious

SEATTLE (AP) — The Boeing Airplane Co. termed "serious" an Air Force announcement that it will curtail dollar payments on military aircraft contracts next year.

Boeing said it was notified of curtailment Wednesday. Retiring Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson also mentioned it at his farewell press conference in Washington.

Boeing, maker of the B-52 bomber and the KC135 jet tanker, said Wednesday's notification indicated the Air Force is hopeful contractors can carry the added financial burden without reducing production rates.

Wellwood E. Beall, senior vice president, said:

"We are analyzing the situation. We do not have all the answers yet. We do know we must cut costs to the bone. We may have to borrow substantial amounts of money. Possibly other steps—such as slowing down production, will be necessary."

Patrol Tops All In Safety

For the third consecutive year, Nebraska's Safety Patrol won first place in the national fleet safety contest.

Word of the award came from Honolulu where the International Association of Chiefs of Police annual convention is under way. This group in co-operation with the National Safety Council sponsors the contest.

During the four years the contest has included fleet competition, the Nebraska Patrol has won first three times and placed third once. The latest award covers the period from July, 1956, to July, 1957.

Nebraska's fleet of 160 patrol cars marked up only 11 reportable accidents last year for a total of 6,861,539 miles traveled. California placed second.

The average for all state police was .44 accidents for every 100,000 miles, compared to Nebraska's .16 accidents for that same mileage.

Redstone Missile Is Fired

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (INS)—A large missile, believed to be the Army's 200-mile-range Redstone, was fired into cloudy skies Wednesday at the top-secret Air Force Missile Test Center's Cape Canaveral annex on the east Florida coast.

The 69-foot-long projectile was visible for only "several seconds," according to observers at Cocoa Beach, some six miles south of the remote launching site. Heavy, low-hanging clouds blanketed the area and it could not be determined whether the test was successful.

As in the past, the test center would confirm only that "a missile was fired today."

The Redstone missle is being used as an experimental stage rocket in connection with the Army's longer range Jupiter, a 1,500-mile range missile.

Rescue Fails; Man Buried In Ditch Dies

SOMERSET, Ky. (AP)—Rescuers Wednesday night lost a 4½-hour race against time when a man buried up to his neck in hardening concrete was dead when freed.

Creston Wallace, 22, Somerset, was trapped in a 3-foot-wide pit when concrete being poured into another hole 10 feet away broke through the earth and poured in on the man.

Wallace, a soil foundation inspector for the G. A. Fuller Construction Co., Atlanta, was inspecting the soil in the pit prior to pouring concrete there.

The holes were dug to hold the foundation of a General Electric Lamp Division plant being constructed in Somerset.

Pronounced Dead

Wallace was trapped at 3:45 p.m. He was freed at 8:19 p.m. and pronounced dead immediately.

The holes are 32 feet deep. Their small diameter prevented more two men at a time to work in freeing the trapped man. Meanwhile, the concrete continued to harden.

An unidentified physician lowered into the pit at 6:20 gave Wallace a heart stimulus injection. But he couldn't determine if the man was alive them.

Shoot Order Is Denied By Defense Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Wednesday denied published reports that U.S. Navy planes were ordered to shoot down an unidentified plane spotted over 6th Fleet units in the Mediterranean last week.

It did say an alert was sent to one commander telling him of "the presence of an unidentified aircraft approaching his carrier task group."

News dispatches from the area last Saturday said that orders were given by Vice Adm. Charles R. Brown, 6th Fleet commander, to shoot down a possibly hostile plane sighted near some fleet units. The fleet was taking part in a naval exercise in the northeastern Mediterranean.

The dispatches said Adm. Brown declined to confirm or deny officially that sich directions had been given, but that many officers and some civilians saw copies of the order.

The order was reported to have said that if the plane "menaces your formation use sidewinders to prevent photography." Sidewinders are air-to-air missiles.

Asked about the reports last week, the Pentagon withheld comment until Wednesday.

The Defense Department statement said Adm. Brown "alerted Adm. Duerfeldt to the presence of an unidentified aircraft approaching his carrier task group," but "no orders were given to crews of Adm. Duerfeldt's command other than an alert."

Work On Millard WE Plant Halted By Labor Dispute

OMAHA (AP)—Work at the Western Electric palnt near Millard was closed down Wednesday by a labor dispute.

Local 1140 of the Laborer's union set up picket lines as the result of its dispute with the Marley Company, subcontractor, and about 850 members of other crafts refused to cross the picket lines.

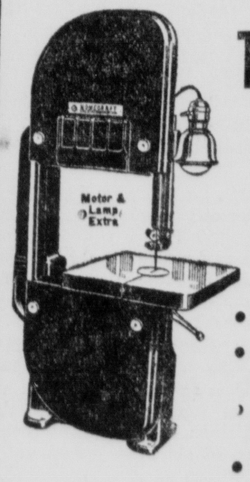

Mike Bell, project manager for Peter Kiewit Sons Co. on the 30 million dollar job, said the cause for disagreement had been removed.

A Western Electric official said he understood the disagreement involved the unloading of materials. Labors local spokesmen refused to discuss the troubles beyond saying that the disagreement had not been settled.

Saudi Arabia Blames Mideast Tension On West, Asks U.N. Leave Syria Alone

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Saudi Arabia Wednesday blamed Western nations for Middle East tension and called for a U.N. "hands off" policy toward Syria.

Ahmad Shukairy, minister of state for Saudi Arabia, told the 82-nation General Assembly "it is the policy of the West that is destroying ties with the Arabs."

He proclaimed Saudi Arabia's full solidarity with Syria and asserted shipment of Communist arms to that country is no business of the United Nations.

Israeli Repatriation

He called for the United Nations to establish an agency to "facilitate the repatriation of Israelis to their former homes." He said "we do not intend to throw the Jews to the sea" but wish them "a better and happier life in their homelands, where they can settle under U.N. auspices."

Shukairy is a Palestinian Arab who represented Syria at past U.N. sessions. He is head of the U.N. delegation for Saudi Arabia, whose King Saud is regarded by the United States as a friend in the Middle East.

A British spokesman said the speech "can hardly be regarded as a helpful contribution to the affairs of the United Nations, with particular reference to the Middle East." A U.S. spokesman said the speech will be given careful study.

'Sheer Fallacy'

Shukairy denounced as "sheer fallacy" a suggestion by British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd that the Soviets may be establishing a forward base in the Middle East by an arms buildup in Syria.

Shukairy said such statements are "nothing but an insult to our national honor, which we must reject outright without hesitation."

He said the U.N. has been told that "the true patriots of Syria have beenn driven from positions of power" and that "Syria is getting arms from the Soviet Union, thereby endangering the security of her neighbors."

He declared "this is no matter that could be seized by the Assembly. The affairs of Syria are for Syria and not for the United Nations. Who is in power, who is not in power, is the concern of Syria and Syria alone."

Shukairy indicated he would oppose any concrete Middle East proposals in the U.N., or suggestions by U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and others that the U.N. invoke resolutions condemning intimidation of one member state by another.

"We shall resist any attempt to interfere in the affairs of Syria," he declared.

"We shall refuse any discussion of the Middle East in the context of division between East and West. We shall not allow the Middle East to be plunged into any cold war of any character. The affairs of the Middle East are, should be, and should remain, the concern of the Middle East."

Shukairy added there is "only one proposal that squarely meets the situation—a proposal that urges the Western powers to settle their differences with the Arab world in Palestine, in Algeria, in Yemen, in Oman and in Buraimi—in accordance with the principles of the U.N. charter."

CAR-PEDESTRIAN MISHAP BRINGS $115,000 SUIT

A $115,000 damage suit against Mrs. Judith Vehrs of 200 So. Cotner in connection with a car-pedestrian accident Feb. 5, 1955, was filed in Lancaster District Court Wednesday.

Merle Watts, the plaintiff, claims he suffered permanently disabling injuries when he was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Vehrs near 25th and A. Watts' suit says he was employed by Harold R. Bookstrom of Lincoln and was working with a crew installing a water main at the time the mishap occurred.

Watts contends he suffered knee, hip, and back injuries in the accident. Co-defendant of the suit is Bookstrom. The suit alleges he is made a party to the suit "as required by law" and that he is entitled to have compensation benefits repaid to him out of any recovery from Mrs. Vehrs.

Plans For Local Disaster Relief Area Due Shortly

Formulation of a disaster relief program for Lincoln and Lancaster County is expected to be completed late this month according to the Lancaster County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Miss Amy Van Hooser of the disaster relief service for the Midwest area and Miss Helen Flanagan, disaster nursing consultant, are in Lincoln this week conducting a disaster preparedness institute.

The plan, according to Miss Van Hooser, is designed to specify and co-ordinate the activities of the Red Cross with those of local government in the event of major disasters from flood, tornadoes, or fires.

Red Cross disaster relief, she said, would operate independently but in co-operation with Civil Defense and local government measures.

A public directory outlining the plan, responsibilities, and key personnel will be published soon, she said.

Child Accidentally Shot; Boy Didn't Know Gun Loaded

OMAHA (AP) — A child's curiosity and the familiar situation: "I thought it wasn't loaded," resulted in a gunshot wound Wednesday for a 7-year-old girl.

Barbara Jo Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Anderson, was accidentally shot in the right knee by a slug from a .38-caliber automatic which her 10-year-old brother picked up from the floor.

Warren told Detective Sgt. Richard Hartquist when Barbara Jo attempted to take her coat off a closet hanger to go to school she accidentally knocked down another coat which dropped to the floor with a thud. Warren said he found in the pocket a pistol which is registered to his father on police records.

"I picked it up. I thought it wasn't loaded so I pulled the trigger," Warren said.

DRESSER-DRAWER 'CRIBS' USED IN BABY BOOM AT ST. ELIZABETH

Quick thinking at St. Elizabeth Hospital brought makeshift "dresser drawer beds" into use to accomodate the record 255 babies born during September.

When the nursery reached its capacity, nurses bedded down the remaining infants in drawers lined with sterilized bedding which they set on tables.

The baby boom, which topped by 19 the previous monthly high of 236 births in July, had been anticipated by St. Elizabeth staff members but the stork arrived before the new shipment of baby beds did.

Officials said the record month would have been handled without makeshift facilities if the births had occurred at an even 8.5 babies a day. But mothers didn't cooperate and on one day there were 77 infants occupying the 41-bassinet ward. Rented cribs and drawer beds took care of the crowd.

September was a near-record month for Bryan Memorial Hospital which recorded 69 births. Record month was November, 1956 with 70. Lincoln General Hospital reported 78 births compared with their year's high of 94 in July.

Hurrah For The Governor

It was good to hear that Governor Victor Anderson has put the influence of his administration back of a long range state park improvement program. He is engaging in a piece of resources development that promises sparkling rewards.

In its concentration on other matters Nebraska has lagged in the development and promotion of its places of beauty. It has left to other regions those rewards of profit and satisfaction that come from outdoor recreation. Some of them have made a great deal more out of less material than Nebraska possesses.

The governor would make available $300,000 a year over a 10-year period and he would plunge it into a carefully planned program. The first fruits would be more enviable fishing, better facilities for recreation, greater delight in Nebraska's varied beauty and, of course, more patronage, less going elsewhere for what can be better seen and done at home. This will please the recreation minded.

But back of it is another factor. The fuller, the more satisfactory life is made to be, the more attractive a region becomes in terms of growth and improvement. Nebraska needs people, industry, new business and more invested capital. It has all the raw material from which a great state is fashioned. It needs a dressing up and better public exposure.

It is one thing to make the national news on drought and Operation Snowbound and quite another to win the reputation of an inviting place to live. After all Nebraska had but one Operation Snowbound and drought is by no means a habit. Such things are but occasional interruptions in an otherwise satisfying way of life. Nothing could be more convincing of this for the visitor than a well prepared view of the excellent side of Nebraska. A well developed park and recreation system will do that job.

A Bit Of Envy

We would like to wish W. E. Stover of York a most pleasant time on his 90-day flight of adventure around the world. At the same time, he should know that what he is doing is the envy of many people.

How many times in the lives of all of us have we had a burning desire just to get up and walk away from it all? How many times have we smiled with desire at the thought of the man who enters a railroad station and buys himself just $50 or $70 worth of distance—no particular direction, just distance?

This love of freedom, this rebellion against confinement and conformity and this disregard for formality are part of what we see in Mr. Stover's trip. He is leaving behind his banking duties to join 15 other men who will cover the West Indies, Western Europe, North Africa, Saudi Arabia, India, Ceylon, Nepal, Tibet, Borneo, New Guinea, Australia, Fiji, Tahiti and Hawaii. While we suspect adventure is the real purpose of the trip, the group will also take pictures which they hope will net them a profit on their excursion.

There is something else in the trip that makes it a noteworthy project. It is an example of the spirit of adventure which made our nation, and particularly the West.

What would Nebraska be today if there had not been men in the 19th century who were eager to explore new regions and even face death to do it? Mr. Stover's trip lacks that romance of danger but it keeps alive the spirit of adventure that should never die in the hearts of any of us.

Expressions For Economy

Nebraskans are being advised by spokesmen for the Nebraska Citizens Council to act now if they wish to influence lower federal income taxes next year. The advice calls for a shower of mail directed at President Eisenhower and Budget Director Percival Brundage, address Washington, D. C. The burden of the message is to be, "I'll take less from the government if government takes less from me.'

The timing is good. Prompt action will get the letters through at the old three cent rate—a demonstration in economy itself, and a good example to government budget planners. And we do not doubt but that President Eisenhower will welcome the letters. They will take his mind off Little Rock and the nation's new ballistic missiles which have mastered the intricacies of sailing off in every direction except up and at the target. He needs encouraging words from his friends.

But less facetiously, the concern for tax reduction is valid, and expressions from the public that it is willing to accept austerity as its contribution to a lowered tax budget imply a cooperative attitude and should be well received.

We are rather all in this together and will make headway for the cause of less taxes by collective effort and sacrifice. If Nebraska's farmers are prepared to do without forms of federal aid, if the aged and indigent are ready to accept less in social security and public aid, if its citizens are ready to travel on such highways as they themselves are prepared to build and maintain, and if everyone would prefer to turn from the graduated income tax to the ungraduated property tax then it is time to say so and mean it. Reductions in these fields would have a lightening effect on the national budget.

But it will be no help to a harried President to lodge unrealistic and unilateral demands. Letters of such character would best not be mailed.

Enrollment Loss

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Incomplete reports on total enrollment at the University of Nebraska show there are 261 fewer students attending classes this year than at the beginning of the 1956-57 term. The entire enrollment picture, of course, would not be clear without knowing the potential enrollment had all things affecting it been the same this year as last. And knowing this is next to impossible, which makes an accurate discussion on the subject a little more complex.

★

However, just the drop in totals calls for an explanation and some careful thinking. Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin expressed the opinion that the drop can be attributed mainly to higher scholastic standards and an increase in tuition. In this he is probably right but it brings up another question. How many of those students who failed to attend the university because of tuition problems would have made good students? In essence, this is the same subject which stirred up a controversy at the time the tuition hike was proposed. There were those who affirmed that if the rates were increased, many students would be deprived of the education to which they were entitled. With the growing international emphasis on education, particularly in the field of science, the question becomes increasingly important. Perhaps higher tuition would not cut out the better students who would be expected to seek and obtain a college education at almost any price. Here, of course, any thoughtful discussion leads into the advantages and disadvantages of educational opportunities based on scholastic ability and that could well be an endless discussion. It might be well, however, if there were some study made of the number of students who will miss the university because of tuition.

Tuition Hike And Enrollment

★

While there is an element of regret to it, the loss of student population due to higher scholastic standards is an inevitable thing in the minds of many. Certainly, it is to the credit of the university that it seeks better quality than quantity. The hard fact of this situation is that schools are reaching the saturation point on population. As a practical financial matter, it is becoming impossible to attempt to educate all of those who might have any ambition to try their luck at the university. To keep education within the reach of anyone, some selectivity is essential and scholarship is one of the best measuring sticks yet devised.

★

There is another phase of the university's report on enrollment that is encouraging. At the same time, it is also difficult to explain. Reports from instructors at the university show the current crop of freshmen as the best in many years. Backing this up are figures which show that there are 34 per cent of this year's freshmen in English Three, the highest level course, as compared to only 20 per cent of last year's entering students in that select group. Remedial English enrollment this year totals 17 per cent of the entering class while 25 per cent of last year's freshmen were in this lowest class. The same pattern is true in math and reports of better students cover all departments of the university. What accounts for this is unknown but it might be hoped that the years of emphasis placed on better high school preparation for college have finally began to pay dividends. This is said with the realization that we might have to eat these words next year.

High Quality Of Newcomers

★

It is still too early to foresee all the effects of the enrollment figures. The hotly contested 1957-59 university budget request was based on an expected enrollment increase of from 700 to 1,400 students. The drop actually experienced could have a sobering effect on state legislators when they tackle another university budget two years from now. Also, the drop in enrollment means a loss of estimated income for the university. An additional 700 students and a hike in tuition were to bring in an extra $1 million. More than 10 per cent of this is now lost. The enrollment drop could re-open past budget bitterness and could result in a financial problem for the university. Only time can give us an insight into future developments resulting from the enrollment picture.

U.S. Prevailed

The United States has prevailed again in its opposition to Communist China representation in the United Nations.

The General Assembly recently voted 47 to 27 to bar the question from debate for the remainder of this session. The motion was made by the United States. It was supported by the UN steering committee.

It is reassuring to know that for another year the American position stands firm with the majority of UN nations. But a close examination of the votes reveals a continued weakness of western influence in Asia, Eurasia and Africa. It is significant that the 10 nations there who supported the motion represent 93 million people while the 12 nations who opposed the U.S. motion spoke for 553 million. We would all feel more comfortable if those figures were reversed.

Patience, Please

Thomas R. Henry, science editor for the North American Newspaper Alliance, has stated that the continents around the Pacific are revolving clockwise like the rim of a titanic wheel. Either that, he said, or the floor of the sea itself is revolving while the continents stand still. In either event, all this movement will eventually result in New Zealand and California being where Japan now is. Where Japan will be he doesn't say and we don't know. But Californians should not worry yet. They should be patient and take things easy. According to Henry, the shift is taking place at the rate of only two inches a year.

Unserved Refugees Fester In Hatreds

JERICHO, Jordan—Just outside this ancient city whose walls crumpled when Joshua blew seven times on seven trumpets is one of the great festering trouble-spots of the Near East.

The city of Jericho is without walls today. It sprawls out at the northern tip of the Dead Sea, 1,300 feet below sea level, where the Jordan River pours its fresh water into a body of water that is so salty fish cannot live. For miles around, the shore is pure salt crystal.

It's hot alongside the Dead Sea, stifling hot. But between Jericho and the sea is a camp of 35,000 refugees, fled from Israel during the Arab attack of 1948. They now clamor to go back. And their clamor, plus that of other refugees, constitutes the most upsetting political force in this upset part of the world.

I drove out from Jericho to the camp. It is constructed of mud brick houses similar to those I helped build for Montenegrin refugees made homeless by the Austrian army after World War I. They are good houses, still standing in Yugoslavia, and those near Jericho are good houses too.

The chief difference is that these refugees don't work. The American Friends Service Committee in Yugoslavia operated on the rule: "No work, no eat." We provided work. But the Arab refugees in Jordan either can't get work, are not supplied work, or don't want to work. In Lebanon they are not permitted by law to work.

During the nine years the refugees have been sitting in heat and idleness at the head of the Dead Sea, they have built up a burning, passionate hate. They hate Israel and they hate Britain and the United States which have befriended Israel. Fanatic Arab leaders have used this as a weapon. Moderate Arab leaders have bowed to it becuse they are prisoners. Bitterness has become too strong. It was one reason the British and Glubb Pasha were kicked out of Jordan and why Jordan spent three days this year celebrating the anniversary of his exit. It's also why Jordan, while accepting American arms, will not accept an American military mission to help them use those arms.

☆ ☆ ☆

WOULD THEY GO BACK?

Moderate Arab leaders will tell you privately that if the refugees were given a chance to go back to Israel, only a handful would go back. They claim, however, that Israel must make the gesture of inviting them back, in order to "save face" for the refugees.

The United Nations, meanwhile, has been doing a superhuman job of sitting on this explosive lid. Without the meager $27 a year the UNRWA spends to keep the refugees alive they would have precipitated war by marching across the border into Israel en masse.

The River Jordan as it flows into the Dead Sea is only 50 feet wide. But in terms of progress it is 500 years wide.

When the Prophet Joshua crossed the Jordan in the days when the walls of Jericho were still standing he was endowed with the divine power to make the Jordan stand still.

I could not help but think as I crossed the Jordan that if the 35,000 refugees sitting in the heat of Jericho had worked at it, they too could have made the River Jordan stand still. In nine years they could have built a great irrigation project which would have turned the barren wastes around them into green fields. Instead they have sat in bitterness and filth while the fresh waters of the Jordan continue flowing into the brine of the Dead Sea.

Wilson Departs; Problems Remain

WASHINGTON — The late blooming but ardent romance between the Charles E. Wilsons and Washington is almost over.

The secretary of Defense frankly hates to leave, and President Eisenhower pleaded with him to stay. But the insistence of Jessie Ann Wilson that her husband, now 67, had to have a real rest for the first time in his life carried the day.

As a day-carrier, of course, Mrs. Wilson has few peers. Wilson has been a refreshingly candid spiller of beans in a smug era, but his loyal wife who chastised a president successfully for disloyalty to his subordinates is unique.

The problems faced by the Pentagon as the new secretary, Neil McElroy, takes over, suggest that Mrs. Wilson may have performed still another service to her husband when she enforced her travel orders on him.

Wilson's final task was unenviable enough. It was to cut defense spending by all manner of harsh expedients in order to stay under the present debt limit. The cuts are under attack, but since Congress had indicated it would not raise the debt limit, they can be defended.

☆ ☆ ☆

The new defense policy to be brought before the Congress next January is another story. What has not yet been faced anywhere is that all projections for a defense built on the development of guided missiles show costs far in excess of the budget now being slashed.

In addition, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is talking in terms of conventional armaments for limited wars. Until lately he had stressed the massive retaliation possible with the new weapons and had ignored the critics who called for limited war preparations as well.

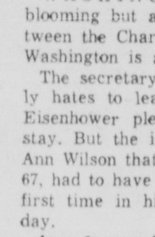

Nobody can hope to be popular who has to deal with these double costs. All apparent methods of meeting them are unpalatable: taxes, a rise in the debt limit, drastic reshuffling of the armed services, cuts in other services performed by the federal government.

☆ ☆ ☆

Two senators at least — Stuart Symington of Missouri and Henry M. Jackson of Washington— have shown themselves ready to accept the bad news about the costs of future defense and to fight the battle for their acceptance as the price of safety. Both have criticized the administration for its present course, their charges ranging from timidity to downright deception.

So far, Congress has been cool to the Symington-Jackson lead. Symington got exactly nowhere last summer in his advocacy of the Cordiner report which suggested ways and means of stopping the flight of technical brains and skills from the services. Then, however, there was some ground for hope in the disarmament talks proceeding in London, a hope that the Russians have since destroyed.

BOB CONSIDINE

See Integration Eased By Sport

NEW YORK — Monte Irvin, the great Negro ballplayer who helped make possible the New York Giants' pennants of 1951 and 1954, said a knowing thing at a gathering of sports people the night before the World Series opened. The talk, of course, had been about the Little Rock integration situation. It is the land's new topic A—as in Arkansas.

"Wouldn't it be wonderful," he asked, "if one of the three boys among the nine students turned out to be a first class athlete? Just think what it would mean to him and to the others — if the football team suddenly needed him, or the basketball team, or the baseball team, or if he could just shine around the intra-murals."

☆ ☆ ☆

Monte spoke from knowledge. He is a product of the surest of all integrated societies, the sports world — where a man generally is rated off his ability to handle ball, stick, glove, complex play and rugged situation, but not off his color.

Jackie Robinson was, in retrospect, ordained to break the color barrier in big league baseball as, say, aristocratic Elizabeth Eckford was the ideal prototype of Negro children who had to go against the guns of the Arkansas National Guard.

Both needed more than the average mortal's share of moxie. The Eckford girl underwent careful schooling and priming by Mrs. Bates, the Little Rock leader of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. By the time Mrs. Bates finished briefing her, the child would have walked across a mined field — which is just about what she had to do.

Robinson got the same sort of bracing when Branch Rickey brought him down from Montreal and told him he was putting the Negro on the roster of the Dodgers.

☆ ☆ ☆

He told Robby that he must possess courage enough NOT to fight, if he expected to make a go of it in the majors as the only Negro there. It's easy to fight, the patriarch told the hot young Negro, but hard to resist a fight when every cell in one's body demands such release.

Garden Glances With The Moon

The leaves come skating down the wind
From bough and twig already thinned
By raking wind and gnashing rain,
The offshoots of a hurricane.

A few leaves desolately linger,
Till pinched by thumb and sharp forefinger
Of frost they drop off one by one
From the tree's lovely skeleton.

But nonetheless I can remember
Summers that lasted till November
And still, untouched by frost, down came
Flame-colored leaves to feed the flame.

How lonely mortal days had been
If all the earth were evergreen,
Which now, deciduous, receives
The annual autumn fall of leaves.

NEW YORK CITY — We flew into the Newark Airport Tuesday evening of last week with 36 other Nebraskans purposely to see the Nebraska-Army game at West Point on Saturday. And so we did, all the hundred or so of us who had come by train or plane, motoring up the west side of the Hudson River in three chartered buses. We left the St. Moritz at nine a.m. and arrived at West Point in time for the parade review at 11:45, with our Gov. Anderson and Chancellor Hardin in the reviewing stand. What a privilege and pleasure to be among those present! Our picture today gives you a glimpse of the cadets in review.

Mrs. Swingle

The morning was bright and sparkling with just enough of autumn's chill in the air to quicken one's step. The countryside was scenic and sublime high up along the Hudson. Frost had touched it only lightly. The dogwoods were brilliant red and heavy with red fruits. But the maples, oaks, beeches, sycamores, ash and other deciduous trees had not turned color—nor have they in Central Park.

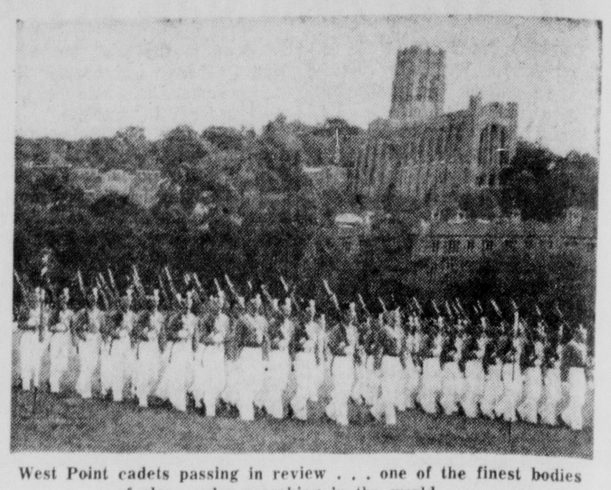

The West Point stadium is small compared to ours, but how the Army can play football! You perhaps saw it on TV or have read the sportswriters' accounts, which would be far more informative than what I might write. The sun was so warm that before I was aware of it I sunburned the left side of my face to match my hat and sweater, I guess.

☆ ☆ ☆

Goldenrod still blooms along the wayside in New Jersey and New York. Some wild asters (Michaelmas daisies) had spent their bloom but there were still plenty of deep violet and rosy ones, different from our prairie species, more intense in hue and larger blooms. In well-tended gardens, one saw red salvia, marigolds, zinnias and petunias in massed plantings just as lush as ours at home in size and color.

Which reminds me—I failed to bring along my "Astro Calendar" and can tell you only that it is second lunar quarter and the waxing moon is in the fixed, airy and barren sign, Aquarius, today, but I cannot tell you exactly the hour that it will enter the flexed, watery and fruitful sign, Pisces, on Saturday. We shall be home soon, so ring me up if you need more moon signs.

So until another day—

West Point cadets passing in review . . . one of the finest bodies of close order marching in the world . . .

His Own Backyard

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There were two news stories in the Sept. 28 issue of The Star that pointed up to me at least something that is more than mere surmise, namely, that Nebraska's Rep. Miller knows more about what goes on in Arkansas than what happens in his own backyard.

Rep. Miller was busy, busy, busy up in Grand Island holding one of the "government clinics" he conducts for high school pupils. While he was extolling the countless virtues of Agriculture Secretary Benson, explaining some of the President's failures, and settling to his own satisfaction the racial trouble down in Arkansas, a member of his own staff back in Washington was busy adjusting the government payroll to her own financial benefit—a development that came as "a great shock" to the discerning congressman.

AMUSED

Story Without Ending

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Some years ago there was a child who was born with two big ears. As soon as he was old enough to look in the mirror and to notice his huge cauliflower ears, he noticed how different he was from other people. This made Big Ears very sad.

As Big Ears grew up, he discovered that all the little-eared people hated him. They poked fun at him. They teased him. They treated him as though he were dirt under their feet. For he was different from them.

For years Big Ears was not allowed to go to the same church as little-earned people. He could not go to the same school. He could not hold down the same jobs as little-eared people. He could live only in certain sections of communities. The little-eared people treated Big Ears as though he had a contagious disease, as though he were an inferior product.

But when Big Ears became a man, he discovered that there were other big-eared people in the world. As he grew older he discovered that one out of 10 in his own country were big-eared people. As he grew in stature he discovered that about six out of 10 people in his whole world were big-eared people.

Then many miracles occurred and this big world in which Big Ears lived suddenly became very small. Fast trains, jet planes, and atomic ships brought the world together by time and distance. The big-eared people of the world discovered that they were the same as little-eared people, except for their ears. This was a shocking discovery, for all the years they had been treated as though a big ear was something they could help.

And so some of the little-eared people and some of the big-eared people got together because they felt that big-eared people were just the same as little-eared people. A law was written by the little-eared people that the big-eared people and the little-eared people would go to the same schools. But a few of the little-eared people still felt that a big-eared person was something evil. All of the big-eared people in the world got sick inside. It hurt because little-eared people did not look upon big-eared people as people but as big ears.

So a few big-eared boys got mad enough to strike back at the little-eared boys. And then some of the little-eared people pointed their fingers at how undesirable those big-eared boys were.

Well, we are about at the end of our story. It's a story without an ending. The ending hasn't been written yet. Some of the little-eared people have called attention to the law that the big-eared people are persons. The little-eared police have come in to help the big-ears go to school.

But this is not the real end of the story. The only end of this story can come when men go before the judgment seat of God. He is the one who knows the secret thoughts of every mind and the secret feelings of every heart. And He will ask the question: "Have you loved Me with all your heart, soul, mind and strength, and your neighbor as yourself?" What will the answer be?

Life at West Point

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Having just read the article, "NU Students Find Life at West Point Hectic" (Lincoln Star, Oct. 1), we can't help but think that the two University of Nebraska students, Jim Keily and Rodney Wolfe, had more contact with the plebes than the upper classmen.

These kids really have a rough time the first year. However, the idea in general (as we might roughly say) is to separate the men from the boys.

We feel that West Point is the ultimate goal of a boy's life since our son is in his third year. Previous to his entry, he spent one semester at the University of Nebraska, following this with a two-year enlistment in the Army from which source he received his appointment. His comments have been that these experiences have been wonderful preparation for the demands made at the Point.

On the humorous side, we can't help but question the statement that "they (the cadets) can't hold hands with their dates." Did you ever hear of a couple becoming engaged with a courtship of "merely holding hands"? Yes, he's engaged to a very lovely daughter of a colonel. Of course, no wedding bells until after graduation is understood.

Courthouse Parking

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of the Lincoln Star: Do the County Commissioners want to insult the people of Lancaster County? Are they doing their best to rid downtown Lincoln of one of its few remaining green spots? Are they trying to make the Courthouse as ugly as possible?

Granted the Courthouse is not a very good-looking building, but the proposal to turn the Courthouse lawn into parking spaces adds insult to injury. The weather-beaten stone has a pleasant look yet, viewed through the park-line approach that now exists, and the lawn adds a gracious look to that part of town.

City government is housed in an old building, too, but at least the little spare space near City Hall is given over to a pleasant patch of greenery, where the populace can relax for a moment.

If parking space is so badly needed for Courthouse "customers" and jury members, why not allot the space behind the building for that purpose and let Courthouse employes find their own parking places, like the rest of downtown Lincoln employes do? Space could be provided for the county officers such as county attorney and sheriff who need to come and go on short notice and still leave plenty of room for jury members and the public.

Louisville, In 2nd Year Of Integration, Has 78% Of Students In Mixed Schools

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The second year of racial integration in Louisville's public schools finds 78.2 per cent, or 35,974 of the 40,022 pupils in mixed student bodies.

City School Superintendent Omer Carmichael said the city now has 57 schools attended by both Negro and white children, 10 all-white schools and eight all-Negro.

Carmichael, who last year drew the praise of President Eisenhower for the peaceful way in which the schools were integrated, reported several city schools have only one white or one Negro student.

"The very fine work of principals, teachers, and other workers" was credited by the superintendent for the successful desegregation program.

"Their alertness in discovering incidents and their wisdom in handling them keep group problems from developing," Carmichael said.

Some Matoaka Negroes Back

MATOAKA, W.Va. (AP)—Four of Matoaka High School's 10 Negro students returned to classes without incident Wednesday. The anti-integration outbursts of the two previous days appeared to be all but over.

The four were escorted to the door by state troopers. There were no loitering white students to cause a commotion on the street, for police were herding students into the building as soon as they arrived.

Tuesday two Negro youths were grabbed by white students as they got off a bus and roughed up. State police quickly broke that up.

Matoaka High was integrated last year. Similar demonstrations took place then.

Fort Lauderdale Club Sold

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Sale of the Fort Lauderdale Golf and Country Club was concluded Wednesday with transfer of the property to the Men's Golf Assn. for $562,400.

The sale followed a Circuit Court ruling that the city must open the course to Negroes.

Guard Costs $95,000 Daily

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army estimated Wednesday it costs $95,000 a day to maintain the federalized National Guard in Arkansas.

Secretary of the Army Brucker gave the estimate in a statement saying that "these federal funds are being paid to the citizen soldiers of Arkansas in order to carry out the presidential order enforcing the order of the United States District Court to prevent the willful obstruction of law by mob violence."

Suit Seeks Injunction

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS)—A suit seeking an injunction against use of federal troops to enforce integration at Little Rock Central High School was filed Wednesday in federal district court.

The suit was filed in behalf of Mrs. Margaret Jackson, vice president of the Central High School Mothers League, and her two daughters, Charlene and Sandra, students at the school.

County Board Protests

CONWAY, S.C. (AP)—The board of commissioners of Horry County withdrew financial support of its National Guard units in protest of the use of troops to force school integration at Little Rock, Ark.

The board, supported by the county legislative delegation, adopted a resolution which also withdraws the use of county facilities, including Guard armories, by any branch of the federal armed forces.

This was believed to be the first time a county has taken such action since before the Civil War.

The state's adjutant general said armories housing the two Guard units in the county, are the property of the state.

CAB MOVES TOWARD AIR SPACE CONTROL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Wednesday took a first step toward complete control of all the air space over the United States in which the airplanes of tomorrow will fly.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), in an unprecedented action, provided for the establishment of a new "continental control area" above 24,000 feet, effective Nov. 1.

CAB plans to lower this ceiling gradually until all air space is controlled, but this can come only when experience and necessary facilities permit. The ceiling probably will be lowered to 15,000 feet in two or three years.

Only Corridors Now

Air space now set aside for air traffic control consists only of the 10-mile civil airways corridors that criss-cross the country in every direction, plus relatively small areas surrounding major airport terminals.

When planes are not flying on instruments, the pilot can leave corridors at his own discretion and ground points lose control over the plane's flight path.

On instrument flights, planes are restricted to certain corridors and certain altitudes.

Little Effect Now

Flight control at 24,000 feet and above will have little effect on airline operations until 1959 when high altitude jet planes are to come into use.

The CAB wrote these principal changes into the air traffic rules for the new continental control area: Minimum visibility for flights under visual rules was increased from three to five miles and a minimum horizontal clearance from clouds was increased from 2,000 feet to one mile.

The required vertical clearance from clouds will remain 1,000 feet.

School Emptied

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—Three thousand students were quickly evacuated from Highland High School here after officials were warned that a bomb had been planted in the building.

The school and grounds were emptied while police and Fire Department personnel conducted a 2½-hour search. Police Chief Paul Shayer termed the incident "apparently a prank."

Police held two juveniles for questioning. Shaver said one boy, 16, named a companion as the one who made telephone calls stating there was a bomb in the school.

Bad Check Artist SpeedieEntersPlea Of Guilty In L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man accused of passing $500,000 in worthless checks across the nation in 14 years has pleaded guilty to five counts of forgery.

Municipal Judge C. Newell Carns ordered Charles R. Speedie—known to police as "The Traveler"—to appear in Superior Court Oct. 8 for sentencing.

Police say Speedie, arrested last month in a Cleveland suburb, is wanted in seven states and 150 California municipalities in connection with bogus checks.

Speedie is believed to have operated in Lincoln during May, 1956, when a number of reportedly bogus payroll checks were passed, mostly at stores, records indicate. Speedie claims to have lived in Omaha and to have attended the U of N.

Reluctant Marine Plans New Moves

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (INS) — Reluctant Marine Pct. Peter H. Green, 18, of Chicago mapped two new moves Wednesday in his effort to be classified as a conscientious objector.

A San Diego federal judge has turned down Green's appeal for noncombatant status.

The youth said he is planning to appeal that ruling.

Green said his second action will be a direct appeal to President Eisenhower, asking that he be classified a conscientious objector.

EISENHOWER GOES TO CHURCH ON DAY SET ASIDE FOR PRAYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower went to church Wednesday morning to lead the nation in prayers for the public welfare.

He drove to the National Presbyterian Church with James C. Hagerty, his press secretary.

The Rev. Dr. Edward L. R. Elson, pastor of the church, read the President's proclamation setting aside Wednesday as a national day of prayer in which all Americans were invited to join according to their faiths.

Then the pastor invoked divine aid for the nation and its leaders in the solution of their problems. He prayed:

"Protect us from enemies without and unworthiness within. Bless all the custodians of our national safety and civil order. Enable us to trust one another and to fear only Thee. Make us equal to our high trust, reverent in the use of freedom, just in the exercise of power, and generous in the protection of the weak."

Nepal Diplomat Leaves Hospital

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Nepal's Ambassador Rishikesh Shaha, victim of a mugging in Central Park last month, came out of the hospital Wednesday and delivered a policy speech to the U. N. General Assembly.

He showed no signs of the injuries suffered when he was attacked and robbed of $85, a watch and his cigarette case. He was stabbed in the chest. Two Brooklyn youths have been charged with the attack.

'Off-Street Parking Needs City Help'

Fred Wells of Lincoln, chairman of the City Traffic Commission, said that municipal financial support is necessary for successful off-street parking programs.

Wells was in Milwaukee this week attending the second International Workshop on Parking.

Most of the cities represented at the meeting, Wells said, have municipal help in the form of bonds or parking meter revenues.

Lynn Stewart, traffic engineer of Fresno, Calif., told the conference the problem could be corrected if downtown off-street parking facilities could be built with federal and state funds, which now are limited to road building.

'Create Congestion'

In an interview later, Stewart said, "The very existence of expressways means more traffic. But instead of keeping traffic moving, they are creating worse congestion because the cars have no place to go when they leave the expressways."

He said one four-level interchange in Los Angeles is jammed during rush hours by cars which wait as long as 10 minutes to get off the expressway and onto side streets to find places to park.

Stewart spoke at a session during which delegates discussed making the workshop a permanent organization, affiliated with the American Municipal Assn., to serve as a clearing house of information on parking problems.

Eric W. Baker, chairman of the York Parking Authority in the Toronto metropolitan area, suggested such an organization could sponsor studies to help cities decide relative benefits of various projects. He said cities want to know whether they will get more results for their money by building special highways and parking facilities or by improving their public transportation facilities.

John D. McGillis, director of Detroit's Municipal Parking Authority, said that if the American Municipal Assn. agrees to an affiliation arrangement at its convention Nov. 29-30 in San Francisco, the permanent parking organization could become a reality next fall when the third International Parking Workshop is held in Toronto.

Lions Clubs Get Prison Fare Taste

The Lions Clubs of Beatrice and Liberty toured the Nebraska Penitentiary and got a taste of prison fare and atmosphere.

They dined in the Trusty Dormitory on "main line" food (for which they paid) and were entertained by the institution musicians —The Felonaires, The Westernaires and The Modernaires.

Many of the 120 visitors accepted the invitation of Warden and Mrs. Joseph Bovey to visit the warden's residence before leaving.

Warren Fairchild, president of the Beatrice Lions, paid tribute to all of the men and institution administration staff for an enjoyable evening as well as the high morale prevailing at the Penitentiary.

State Teachers Colleges Cite High Standards In Roll Drop

Heads of Nebraska's four teachers colleges said Wednesday that firmer scholastic requirements had held back their enrollment some.

While Kearney's enrollment has increased, Dr. Herbert Cushing said, "It would have been higher if we hadn't felt it necessary to clear the air on scholastic requirements."

He said 118 students were put on scholastic probation last January, and of these, 61 were suspended at the end of the second semester.

In addition to this, Kearney rejected "40 or 50" applications from transfer students who could not meet the scholastic requirements which are being "enforced quite rigidly."

Ex-GIs Excepted

Dr. Cushing said the only exception the colleges makes is with students who have been in military service. "We feel they may have settled down and deserve another chance," he added.

His sentiments were echoed by Dr. Neal Gomon who said Peru was giving military servicemen "the benefit of the doubt", but he emphasized that the school "is not taking the cast-offs of other colleges."

Transfer students "must have maintained a C average," Dr. Gomon said, before Peru will accept them.

"We have always had a screening of our people," he continued, "but we are now screening them even further because we are trying to strengthen our program."

Dr. William Brandenburg said Wayne's scholastic requirements were "already at a pretty high standard", and they have not changed.

Dr. Barton Kline said he attributed much of Chadron's increase to "better retention of upper classmen." The school has been working hard to keep its students after their first two years.

Students can take their pre-med, pre-law, pre-dental and such at the Normal Colleges. Their leaving at the end of their first two years has always been a big factor in the colleges' enrollments, Dr. Cushing said.

Peru reported a "rather sharp loss" of upper classmen this year.

Wayne also reported a loss in upper classmen this year.

Coffee Drops

NEW YORK (INS) — Coffee prices dropped to their lowest level in about two years following numerous cuts of two to five cents by roasters and retail outlets.

The cuts were the fourth this year by many firms.

Brakke Boy 8th County Polio Case

Thomas Brakke, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Brakke of 5314 Myrtle, has become the eighth polio victim in Lancaster County for 1957, according to the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department.

Hospital attendants reported his condition as good and apparently non-paralytic.

The same number of polio cases were reported at this time in 1956.

All eight cases this year have been in Lincoln.

Hillings Suggests Tour For Nixon

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Congressman Patrick J. Hillings, (R-Calif) has urged President Eisenhower to send Vice President Richard Nixon behind the Iron Curtain to "explain the responsible American viewpoint on the subject of civil rights and discrimination."

Hillings wired the President:

"We must move quickly to prevent Communist propaganda from destroying the true American viewpoint and we must make it clear that the United States is not being taken in by Faubusism."

Rural Ground Rules Power Meeting Set

. . . Mallon To Represent Lincoln

City Co-ordinator James Mallon will represent Mayor Bennett Martin at a Columbus meeting Thursday morning in discussions with the Nebraska Rural Power Association's "ground rules power policy committee."

Martin said that he and the mayors of Beatrice and Hastings had been named to represent the League of Nebraska Municipalities at the meeting, but he had not been informed of the possible agenda or discussion subjects.

Mayor To Rating Talk

Mallon was designated to attend the Columbus meeting because the mayor and other city officials have a scheduled Thursday afternoon meeting in Omaha with representatives of the Fire Underwriters and Nebraska Inspection Bureau.

The Omaha meeting will discuss possible removal of deficiency points in the city's fire inspection report to regain its Class 4 rating.

Other city officials attending will be City Atty. Jack Pace, Safety Director Emmett Junge; Welfare Director David Erickson, and Fire Chief Paul Feaster.

Drought Brings Out Site Of Buried Fort

MASTIC, N.Y. (AP) — Last summer's severe drought brought to light the location of an old British fort that had been buried since the end of the 18th century. The fort was built by the British on Long Island in 1780 and soon destroyed by an American raiding party.

It is located on the property of the manor of St. George, a park and museum. When grass turned green after the drought elsewhere, it remained brown over the fort, outlining it perfectly.

Trailer Home, Court Law Declared Unconstitutional

A law passed by the 1957 Legislature, regulating trailer homes and courts, is unconstitutional, according to Atty. Gen. C. S. Beck.

An opinion prepared by Asst. Atty. Gen. Gerald S. Vitamvas noted that the law, passed as LB 104, was drawn to apply only to mobile home courts that might be established after the law became effective, and not to already-established courts.

By exempting courts already in existence, the law violates the state constitutional provision which prohibits the passing of any special laws granting to any corporation, association or individual any special or exclusive privileges, immunity or franchise whatever.

"The Legislature may make a reasonable classification of persons, corporations and property for purposes of legislation concerning them, but the classification must rest upon real differences of situation and circumstances surrounding the members of the class relative to the subject of legislation which render appropriate its enactment," the opinion said.

'Law Unenforceable'

County Atty. Robert D. Moodie of West Point had raised the question, asking specifically whether a mobile home court which had been operating for five years and will continue to operate under the same owner must comply with the provisions of LB 104.

The law, the attorney general's office replied, is "void and unenforceable."

LB 104 called for the licensing and inspection of trailer courts by the State Agriculture Department and established penalties for violations. A $10 construction permit fee was established, along with a $25 initial license fee to operate a trailer court and a $25 annual license fee.

WESLEYAN HOMECOMING OCT. 24-25

Homecoming at Nebraska Wesleyan University will be observed Oct. 24 and 25.

Midland College will furnish the opposition for the traditional homecoming football game.

Wesleyan Alumni Secretary Bill Hill said the traditional homecoming format, plus the Alumni Awards convocation program launched a year ago, will be followed this year.

This will include a semi-annual meeting of alumni, the convocation, fraternity and sorority open houses, a Friday night party for unaffiliated former students, Chuck Wagon Dinner, house decoration competition, "W" club sweetheart and the homecoming dance.

The bulk of the program is scheduled for a full Friday on the 24th. The traditional dance is scheduled for Ira J. Taylor gymnasium Saturday night.

Hill said an increase in interest over the past several years indicates a record homecoming throng this year.

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — The circuit clerk looked twice at the driver's license that Bert Wilson wanted renewed. The license listed Wilson's birth as 1863. "I don't drive too much anymore," explained the 94-year-old motorist, "but when I do, I usually have somebody with me." He got his license.

Hello Girl, 78, Displaced By Dial System

DIXON, Neb. (AP) — It's goodbye for Dixon's 78-year-old hello girl.

She is Mrs. 78-year-old Eva Karnes who has been a telephone operator in the Dixon-Concord Telephone Exchange for 47 years.

She is being displaced by a dial system.

The stories of Mrs. Karnes' beyond-the-call-of-duty services include these:

Routed Burglars

She sometimes helped the town night watchman and on one occasion, armed with a flashlight, she routed burglars from a grocery store.

When a depot agent down the line reported a train stalled in a snowdrift east of Dixon, she set out on foot to round up a crew.

Many times after storms she went out with a pole to untangle lines.

The Dixon-Concord exchange, formerly owned by the Farmers and Merchants Co., is now being modernized by new owners, the Northeast Nebraska Telephone Co.

British Clergyman Goes On Mission Of Apology

LONDON (AP) — Britain's best known Methodist clergyman-pacifist has undertaken a self-appointed mission of apology on behalf of Christianity for the August, 1945, U.S. atom bombings of Japan. On leaving for Tokyo, Dr. Donald Soper told airport newsmen: "War crimes were committed by all nations but one of the most horrible was dropping the atomic bomb on Japan."

M. N. LAWRITSON

Lawritson Is Honored By Dairy Shrine

WATERLOO, Ia.—The late Martin N. Lawritson, Lincoln, longtime Extension dairy husbandman for the University of Nebraska, was honored during the ninth annual meeting of the Dairy Shrine Club here Wednesday.

Mr. Lawritson was named "dairy pioneer" and his portrait will hang in the Club galleries. Mrs. Frances Lawritson accepted the honor for her late husband.

An educator, leader, and widely recognized judge of dairy cattle, Mr. Lawritson devoted his entire life to the betterment of dairying in Nebraska.

Mr. Lawritson help in the formation of the first co-operative Artificial Breeding Association west of the Mississippi. Other achievements included establishing a testing program and organizing the first 4-H clubs in Nebraska. He was also an official classifier for the Brown Swiss breed.

"Lorry," as he was better known, was a 1919 graduate of the University of Nebraska where he joined the dairy Extension staff. In 1924, he was employed by the Nebraska Dairy Development Society. Ten years later, he returned to the Extension staff where he worked until his death in 1956.

Killing Frost Due Any Day, Records Show

On the basis of past experience, Nebraska farmers can look for a killing frost any day now, weather bureau statistics showed Wednesday.

The average earliest date at which temperatures drop to 28 degrees or lower in Nebraska varies from as early as Sept. 26 at Gordon in northwest Nebraska, to Oct. 27 at Crete in southeast Nebraska, according to an analysis released by the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

A. V. Nordquist, chief of the division, said a 28 degree temperature generally will stop plant growth of corn and sorghums. More tender vegetation, like beans, will be killed at higher temperatures.

Other Factors

Atmospheric conditions and the length of time a below freezing temperature persists are factors also, he noted. A 32 degree temperature if it lasts long enough will kill corn and sorghums, he said.

Here are average dates at which temperatures first will drop as low as 28 degrees at selected Nebraska points:

Northwest: Alliance, Oct. 10; Chadron, Oct. 10; Harrison, Sept. 29; Kimball, Oct. 8; Oshkosh, Oct. 14; Scottsbluff, Oct. 6.
North Central: Hyannis, Oct. 6; Merriman, Oct. 1; Valentine Lakes, Oct. 9.
Northeast: Albion, Oct. 9; Hartington, Oct. 19; Niobrara, Oct. 10; Norfolk, Oct. 10; Tekamah, Oct. 20; Wakefield, Oct. 12; West Point, Oct. 17.
Central: Broken Bow, Oct. 4; Elm Creek, Oct. 15; Gothenburg, Oct. 12; Ravenna, Oct. 8; St. Paul, Oct. 13.
East Central: David City, Oct. 20; Fremont, Oct. 18; Lincoln, Oct. 27; York, Oct. 21.
Southwest: Culbertson, Oct. 12; Imperial, Oct. 16; Madrid, Oct. 13; North Platte, Oct. 18.
South Central: Beaver City, Oct. 13; Holdrege, Oct. 23; Minden, Oct. 20; Red Cloud, Oct. 16.
Southwest: Beatrice, Oct. 24; Clay Center, Oct. 21; Crete, Oct. 27; Fairbury, Oct. 26; Geneva, Oct. 24; Hebron, Oct. 23; Pawnee City, Oct. 23; Tecumseh, Oct. 17.

Reclamation Progress Said Never Ending Battle

McCOOK, Neb. (AP) — "It is a never ending battle to maintain the orderly progress of reclamation development in the face of the willful and selfish groups who refuse to recongize that any good can come out of this work," The Republican Valley Conservation Assn. (RVCA) was told Wednesday night.

In a speech delivered at the annual meeting of the RVCA, W. A. Dexheimer, commissioner of reclamation, urged the association "not to lose any of the enthusiasm and co-operative spirit which have accomplished so much."

Referring to the fact that irrigation now is beginning to spread over the territory served by Republican Valley works, he declared: "You people here who will soon know from actual experience are the best qualified to state the case for reclamation."

Crop Values Hiked

The reclamation commissioner noted that there are now some 15,000 acres being irrigated from the Bartley and Cambridge canals and that last year these newly irrigated lands produced crops valued at nearly $100 per acre compared with $40 for an average of dry farm production.

He also commented on the fact that the Frenchman-Cambridge Irrigation District has taken over the responsibility for operation and management of the irrigation system for a 22,600 block of land in more than 200 farm units; that reservoirs back of the Republican River dams are full —Swanson Lake behind Trenton Dam for the first time since its completion —and that diversification of farming is beginning to be felt in the Republican River Valley.

The storage water is providing recreation grounds close to home for people of the valley, he said, and these facilities are being well managed by the Nebraska Game Forestation and Parks Commission.

"You already have a well-established, productive agricultural area," he said "But I venture the prediction that your economy will be enriched and stabilized by the irrigated agricultural operations which are now getting under way."

GLADWIN, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Augusta Guse, a 91-year-old widow, went to the home of Gifford P. Peters, a 90-year-old widower, five weeks ago to buy a bushel of potatoes.

They were married at his home here this week.

Describing their first meeting, Mrs. Peters said: "He invited me in but I said we could talk under a tree and we did. I think he followed me home. He was over to my apartment almost every day after that."

And how did he put the question?"

"He said," she replied, " 'I wish we could be together' and I said 'me too' and that was it. Now I'm selling potatoes."

'LESS FROM GOVERNMENT IF . . .'

Now is the time to start writing letters if you would like to see federal income taxes reduced next year, Executive Director Robert M. Armstrong of the Nebraska Citizens Council advised Wednesday.

The letters, he suggested, should be directed to President Eisenhower and Budget Director Percival Brundage, as well as congressmen.

The official review of the budget just issued in Washington estimates a federal surplus of one and a half billion dollars for the current (1958) fiscal year, which is not enough margin for substantially lower debt and taxes, Armstrong said.

Economy Noted

"Tax reduction in 1958 depends largely on the President submitting a smaller budget for fiscal 1959 in January," he said. "Requests that make up that budget are now being screened by the executive office. The screening should be done with a strong public demand for government economy in mind."

The Nebraska Citizens Council and taxpayer groups in other states will continue their economy drive between sessions of Congress and into the next session, he reported. The slogan continues to be: "I'll take less from government, if government takes less from me."

Test Case

TORRINGTON, Wyo. (AP) — Periodic tests are held by Torrington city officials on gas driven engines for standby generators which are used to pump the local water supply in case of power failure. But when the power went off recently, the generators could not be started. Their gasoline supply had been used up in tests.

Piecework Conscience

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—A thief who stole 26 guns from the Moore Auto Accessory Co. apparently has a piecework conscience. Eleven of the weapons showed up later in a sack left at the rear door of the store. Still later, two more of the stolen guns were left on the steps of the City Building.

Defense Costs Top Budget, Wilson Says

. . . At Secretary's Farewell News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson reported Wednesday that defense spending ran 300 million dollars above budget figures in the July-August-September period. He also announced the Air Force is adopting a schedule limiting monthly payments to aircraft manufacturers.

Wilson

Wilson hit this economy note in his final news conference as secretary of defense.

Earlier in the day, President Eisenhower had formally accepted Wilson's resignation. Neil McElroy, successor to Wilson, will take the oath of office Oct. 9.

'Nation Is Safer'

Wilson said he believes the nation is safer than it was when he came to the Pentagon 4½ years ago, and that defense spending should remain at about present levels for several years.

As to his feelings as he leaves: "I don't hate anybody. If I have any enemies it is of their choosing, not mine."

One reporter, bringing up the integration controversy, asked Wilson whether he thought the U.S. Naval Academy should go ahead with its scheduled football game with the University of Georgia at the Oyster Bowl in Norfolk, Va.

Wilson replied that he didn't know much about football schedules, but he "supposed that such things have been going on for years."

'I'm Not So Fussy'

Then he added: "I come from the North and am not so fussy about the business (of integration)."

Wilson recalled that he went to school "more than 60 years ago with a little colored boy. It didn't hurt me," Wilson said with a kindly grin, and "I don't think it hurt, him, but I do remember that he wasn't the dumbest boy in the class."

Wilson was making an obvious effort to stay out of the controversy and to avoid putting his foot in his mouth, a tendency he has shown at times in Washington.

Wife Was There

He brought his wife along and proudly introduced her to the reporters as "Jessie."

Mrs. Wilson spoke her mind on several occasions.

A reporter recalled that some time ago there had been a suggestion that Wilson should meet with his Soviet opposite number, Marshal Zhukov, in an effort to lessen world tensions.

Mrs. Wilson broke in before the question had been completed, saying "I was for it."

Spirit Of Adventure

A slightly embarrassed Wilson managed to get his word in, saying of his wife, "I suppose she has enough spirit of adventure and would like to have gone to Russia."

Wilson added that he had never taken the idea very seriously. He said also that the President "never spoke to me about it so I don't know whether he had it in mind."

On another subject, Wilson said he had about given up hope of making the selection of a 1,500-mile range ballistic missile before he leaves the Pentagon.

More Time

Wilson said the special committee appointed by him to decide whether the missile would be the Army's Jupiter or the Air Force's Thor had asked for more time to make a recommendation.

President Eisenhower, formally accepting Wilson's resignation, said it is largely because of Wilson's "effective leadership and successful management" of complex responsibility that "the strength of our security forces has not only been maintained but has been significantly increased."

Germany Hit

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany's influenza epidemic still gripped many sections of the country but a decrease was reported in the state of North Rhine-Westphalia.

Schools continued closed in many parts of the country.

The U.S. Army said about 500 of its 750 flu cases are victims of Asian flu. The U.S. Air Force said another 1,500 airmen are ill.

NATO Exercise Bared 'Grave Deficiencies'

. . . Adm. Wright Says

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Adm. Jerauld Wright, Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, said Wednesday night grave deficiencies in Western sea defenses were exposed by last week's NATO naval exercises in the eastern Atlantic.

The American admiral issued a statement after a conference attended by 500 officers from ships in the exercise called Strikeback.

The air-sea maneuvers were held to test the West's ability to keep open Atlantic shipping lanes against enemy attack.

"The exercises have tested our equipment and weapons, and grave deficiencies have been noticed—deficiencies and shortages inconsistent with the capability of our skilled hands and our trained minds to control and direct," the admiral said.

Denies Rehearing

The State Liquor Control Commission reported it has denied a rehearing to Jerome and Aletha Fie of Gibbon, Neb., whose application for an inside beer license was denied earlier.

New Southeast PTSA Officers Election Thursday

New officers of the Parents-Teachers-Student Association of Southeast High School will be elected Thursday night, following a football rally at 7:30 p.m. at the Southeast Auditorium.

Faculty members, parents and students will participate in the rally, honoring the members of the football team. Tom Gillaspie, Southeast football coach, will introduce the players.

Also taking part in the rally will be the girls' pep group—the Knightettes—the cheerleaders, and the school band, under the direction of Paul Austin.

This will be the first PTSA meeting of the school year.

Frenchwoman Has Quints

. . . Two Have Died

TOULON, France (AP)—Quintuplets were born Wednesday to a 33-year-old mother but two have died.

The mother, Mrs. Camille Christophe, was reported doing well.

The two boys and three girls ranged in weight from 2 pounds to 2.3 pounds each.

Two sets of quintupets are known to have survived the first days of birth—the Dionnes of Canada, born in 1934, and the Diligentis of Argentina, born in 1943.

The Dionnes were all girls. Emilie Dionne died at 20 three years ago. The Diligentis are two boys and three girls.

"Walter Locke is as sensitive to America's meaning — all of America's meanings — as any living man. I am grateful that this wise and gentle man has been persuaded to write this important book."

This World, My Home
by WALTER LOCKE

The author of the "Trends of the Times" column casts a compassionate eye back over a life that has spanned American society from a log cabin childhood through a prairie youth to maturity in the industrial age, and reflects on it all with a rare combination of clear insight, literary grace, and spiritual power. Cotillion Club Holds Election

The members of Cotillion Club held their annual dinner-business meeting on Wednesday evening at the University Club, and on the agenda, as usual, was the naming of new officers and the election of new members.

Moving up from the office of secretary-treasurer to the presidency this year are Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor Greer, and serving as secretary-treasurer will be Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stein.

The retiring presidents are Mr. and Mrs. Craig O'Brien.

A Little Of This—And That

THE PAST week-end may have passed into oblivion, but there still are echos of last Saturday and the Nebraska-Army game. Actually the game itself doesn't enter into the pleasant sidelights of Nebraskans who attended the game, but the post activities and chance meetings, do.

It was quite by chance that Mr. and Mrs. George G. Swingle met Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Fraizer face to face right in front of the St. Moritz Hotel—The Swingles were on their way to LaGuardia to board plane for home—and Mr. and Mrs. Fraizer had arrived by plane from Paris only a short time before—had registered in at their hotel and were taking a stroll down the avenue.

* * *

THEN there was the gala affair in the Sky Room of the St. Moritz—a Nebraska party which, from what we gather, was well attended—Among those Mr. and Mrs. Swingle saw at this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Porter (Ann Kinder Dwinell), who were looking for familiar faces from Mrs. Porter's home town—Lincoln—Also on hand were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kelly (Jettie Seacrest) who also were delighted to see old friends from Nebraska.

Incidentally—While on a shopping excursion one afternoon Mrs. Swingle ran into Mrs. Helen Drake Prouty of Scottsdale, Ariz., formerly of Lincoln, who was about to take off for Europe—

And among the younger generation of former Lincoln residents was Norman Walt Jr., and Mrs. Walt who had a brief chat with Mr. and Mrs. Swingle as they were leaving the stadium.

* * *

THIS morning we have the list of new members who received invitations to join the Terpsichorean Dancing Club and who doubtless will be on hand for the club's first dinner dance which will be held on Saturday evening at Hotel Lincoln and which, according to plans, will have a decided football flavor.

Answering roll call for the first time on Saturday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. George Wink, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. William McKelvey, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Overgaard, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Overgaard, Mr. and Mrs. K P. Kubicek, Mr and Mrs. Robert Essman, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Chilson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Ingelgum, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kettelson, Mr. and Mrs. Werner Lienert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pearson.

The party details for the first dinner dance are being planned by the club's officers and their wives and husbands, including Mr. and Mrs. Francis Parish, president; Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Warner, vice-president; Mrs. W. E. Coatney, secretary, and Mr. Coatney, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Graham, treasurer.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. G. M. Strubinger Jr., and her daughter, Cathryn, will plane in to Lincoln today to spend some time as the guests of Mrs. Strubinger's mother, Mrs. N. H. Bedell.

* * *

MANY Lincoln people will be happy to learn that Miss Olive Seamark of Banning, Calif., formerly of Lincoln, arrived on Monday evening to spend several weeks as the guest of Mrs. Torrence Moyer.

Betrothal of Interest

MISS BRIDGET WATSON

Of interest this morning is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Watson of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Bridget, to Maj. Kosta Boicos of Athens, Greece.

The wedding will be an event of very late autumn or early winter.

Miss Watson is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. Since her graduation she has been in Paris, France where she was associated with SHAPE.

Maj. Boicos, whose parents reside on the island of Corfu, served on the Adjutant General's staff at SHAPE under the command of Gen. Alfred Gruenther. Maj. Boicos now has returned to Athens where the ceremony will be solemnized.

BRIDES' BOOK

A bride-elect of early October is Miss Rosemary Carol Smith whose marriage to James Barfield will be an event of Friday, Oct. 4.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at 8:00 in the evening at the Second Presbyterian Church, Miss Smith has named Miss Ardith Mae Hughes as her maid of honor, and lighting the candles for the service will be Miss Roberta Lee Kierstead.

Robert E. Carder will serve Mr. Barfield as best man, and the ushers will be James Rosenmeier of LaCrosse, Wis., and Roy D. Smith.

The courtesy spotlight is turned on autumn brides these days, and one of the popular brides-elect is Miss Kay Rosenlof whose marriage to Ronald H. Brader will be solemnized on Sunday, Oct. 20.

This morning Miss Rosenlof announces that she has chosen her sister, Miss Gretchen Rosenlof, as her maid of honor, and that her bridesmaids will be Miss Donna Pierce and Miss Carole Jackman.

Frank Rosenlof will serve Mr. Brader as best man, and seating the guests will be Tom McCarthy and William Nicholas.

Helen Groteluschen will be the flower girl. and the ring will be carried by Frank Groteluschen.

Complimenting Miss Rosenlof on Saturday evening, Oct. 12, will be Miss Donna Pierce who has invited 12 guests for a dessert supper at Cotner Terrace. During the evening the bride-to-be will be presented with a personal shower.

And on next Tuesday evening, Miss Rosenlof will be an honoree when Miss Carole Jackman is hostess at a dessert supper at her home. Twenty-four guests have been invited for the supper and a kitchen and linen shower.

DAR Honors Two Members

Mrs J. E. Bartley was hostess Tuesday evening to the Members of St. Leger Cowley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. Following the buffet supper, two 50-year memberships were presented.

Those honored were Mrs. Earl Williams, a past regent of the chapter, whose award was presented by Mrs. Bartley, and Dr. Jane B. Ringer of Hollywood, Calif., former chapter regent and state regent, whose honor was presented in absentia by Mrs. B. K. Worrall, also a former chapter and state regent.

A guest for the evening was Mrs. W. H. Fry, daughter of Mrs. Williams.

Assisting Mrs. Bartley as hostesses were Mrs. J. R. Shike, Miss Arthodel Shike, Miss Edith Callender and Miss Ruth Callender.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

By JANE CRABILL and ANN MAGEE

How's it going, friends? Do you find seventh grade much harder than sixth grade? It is a change, but if you work at it you will find it isn't too bad. There are more activities, and you will meet more people, too.

★

Already we have had several assemblies at Irving. At two of them we had local sportsmen who spoke on sports in general or their own favorite sport. Another treat was listening to Capt. Walter Kennedy of the Salvation Army who explained the pictures of England and Scotland, shown on a large screen, which were taken on Capt. and Mrs. Kennedy's trip to Europe. Not only were there pictures of Great Britain, but there also were pictures of the ship on which they crossed the ocean, and sections of the United States that they crossed getting to New York.

★

Last week we mentioned names of some of the girls with attractive outfits. This week we have more to talk about. Janet Southwick is the owner of a charming tight, red dress with large and shining gold buttons. Susie Wagner has a cute tight skirt with matching blouse in gray, and a double treat to look at are the identical yellow skirts with a design in navy blue, and matching tops, which belong to one of Irving's pair of identical twins — Gwen and Gayle Luff.

★

Hints for home work:

1. Give yourself plenty of time.
2. Listen carefully to instructions.
3. Do your work neatly and spell correctly.
4. Re-check work — (we all make mistakes).
5. TRY TO DO YOUR BEST.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

It would seem that we have a bit of a mathematical problem to deal with this morning in our Eastborough suburb. This past week the suburban population has been increased by the arrival of two new members of the talcum powder set, but will soon be decreased by the departure of two families moving from the area. Then we must take into consideration the numerous visitors, and what this all adds up to is a full share of interesting news notes.

A warm welcome to Miss Mary Ann Morgan who arrived at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 22. Proud parents of the young lady are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Morgan, and she has two brothers, Dan and David.

Mary Ann's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Fuller of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mrs. Ann Morgan of Washington, D.C.

Also making his premier performance at St. Elizabeth Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 22, was Thomas Carl Lodahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gale J. Lodahl. To Thomas this must seem very much a woman's world for he has three sisters, Ellen, Pat and Barbara.

Tom's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hurley of Dayton, Ohio, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lodahl of Lainsborough, Minn. Mrs. Lodahl, by the way, arrived in our suburb on Monday, Sept. 23, for an extended visit.

Speaking of new arrivals we're reminded of a courtesy being given this morning in honor of Mrs. Gordon Henley and her new two-year-old daughter, Frances. Hostesses for the informal coffee will be Mrs. Charles Neidt and Mrs. Wayne House, and 20 guests have been invited to the Neidt home for the party.

Lt. and Mrs. David W. Turner and their children, Mary Allison, David and Alan, will be leaving Eastborough next Thursday on their way to Castle Air Force Base near Merced, Calif., where Lt. Turner will be stationed for two months. Following this temporary duty the Turner family will head for their new home at Loring Air Force Base in northern Maine.

Bidding farewell to Eastborough friends on Tuesday morning were Mr. and Mrs. George Mack and their children, Randy and Laurie, who departed for their new home at Wright-Patterson Field near Dayton, Ohio.

In farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Mack, Capt. and Mrs. Charles W. Schisler Jr. were host and hostess to friends last Friday evening when they entertained at a buffet supper at their home. Well wishers included Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Marvin Skappel, Capt. and Mrs. Bill Francis, and Capt. and Mrs. William B. Meharg.

Marriage Solemnized

MRS. GORDON TONNIGES

The wedding of Miss Gloria Jean Beckman of Long Beach, Calif., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman of Fulda, Minn., and Gordon Tonniges, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tonniges of Crete, took place on Friday, Aug. 30, at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church at Long Beach. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Theodore Foreid in the presence of family members and a small group of friends.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Charlotte Hayden of Long Beach who wore a frock of pink lace in the ballerina length. The fitted bodice was fashioned with bracelet sleeves, and the skirt flared into hemline width. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Gerald Georgeson served Mr. Tonniges as best man.

The bride chose for her wedding a waltz-length gown of imported lace in the champagne tone. The decolletage of the snug bodice was covered by a sleeved jacket trimmed in matching satin, and the circular skirt was caught into fullness. She carried a clutch bag of champagne lace to which was pinned a green cymbidium orchid.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Right now the fear-sighted Republicans are putting some moola away for a rainy administration.

That's because early Maine primaries have been eliminated from the tournament. And there is a split up the GOP back, no wider than a man's coat.

In political package deals they like their bundles unmarked, small and unclaimed. Maine and Wisconsin will merge to see whose goose-bone prophet lays the most goose eggs.

Straws show which way the breeze vanes, break the camel's suspenders and are government issue for barracks bed sacks.

They also are direction finders for opinionated impartiality. So Wisconsin is now batting for Maine in the electoral series.

The star moves westward and the stripes follow. With the Bostons in Milwaukee and the Giants in San Francisco there's no reason why the meridian of jumping political cats shouldn't be in Wisconsin.

Projected shadows of parlayed events endorse the integrity of the political polls over the refilled prescription method.

Anyway, win, lose or protest, neither party promises us better government. All they promise is augmented investigations.

Same Old Story—Yanks Win, 3-1

Ford Bests Spahn In Series Opener

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) — Guess what? The Yanks won a World Series ball game Wednesday.

Milwaukee's earnest Braves, that city's greatest boon since bottled beer, provided the neck on which the Yanks stepped. The score was 3-1 in favor of an organization that wins more often than the "house" at Las Vegas. Whitey Ford dealt. A stranger in town, Warren Spahn, lost.

Gone are the Dodgers, forgotten the Giants, and scattered are all other ghostly platoons the Yankees demolished in bygone years. There was fresh meat for the champions to consume, and they did so with the appetite of men who know no surfeit.

The Braves looked like everybody else the men of Casey Stengel have met over the years. They're now 2-to-1, 2½-to-1, to win their 18th championship in 23 opportunities.

Ford was a master out there, with a fair sun on his cap and the bulk of 69,476 people wishing him well in the complacent manner of Yankee fans. The lefthanded man, who won only 11 during the season, had a fog of pain in his shoulder most of the year. He cast it out like a devil and it got in the sights of Milwaukee's heaviest artillery.

The Yankee pitcher gave the losers five hits. He struck out five, needed the doubletalk advice of Casey Stengel only once. It was his fifth World Series victory for the Yankees against two losses.

Spahn, one of the great craftsmen in National League history, was driven to his lonely tub and bitter contemplations in the sixth inning. This was the 36-year old southpaw's downfall:

Behind 1-0 at the time, and with Mickey Mantle safely disposed of for the first out of the inning, Spahn found big, frisky Elston Howard too tough to crack. Howard, in the game at first base as a replacement for Moose Skowron, who hurt himself in the first, sent a crackling single into center.

Jarred, Spahn walked Yogi Berra, then went to work assiduously on Andy Carey with the confidence of a 21-game winner facing a .255 hitter. He raked the strike area with those long, overhand hooks and dips. But Carey pounded a fine single into center, scoring Howard with a rush. The score was 2-0. and Fred Haney so feared that it might further deteriorate that he jerked Spahn.

The crowd gave the old fellow the warm sympathy it reserves for elders who fail in the evening of their playing lives. It must have been small comfort to Spahn as he melted into the shadows of his team's cave.

The inning wasn't over. Berra stood on third, mildly amused at the confusion in the enemy's ranks, a man as tall as Abe Lincoln came in to pitch, righthanded, raw-boned Ernie Johnson. The ranks closed. With one strike, he heaved the ball toward Gerry Coleman at the plate. But even as he did, Berra was streaking for home—100 per cent committed.

Coleman had a good eye Wednesday as two previous hits indicated. Now he dumped a bunt to the left of the charging pitcher. Johnson hesitated about trying for Berra at the plate just long enough to lose what chance he had—and the hesitation could not have been a hundredth of a second. Berra slid safely across in a cloud of dirt and marking chalk. The score was 3-0.

There wasn't much more to it except the isolated run the Braves scored and a few frills and trappings.

The visitors averted a shutout in the seventh. Wes Covington got a "wrong field" double with a slice to left which, had it been delivered on a golf course, would have been out of bounds. Ford persuaded Del Crandall to roll to Gil McDougald for the first out. McDougald feinted a throw to second to hold Covington there, before throwing out Crandall.

Nippy Jones, batting for Johnson, topped a ball which Ford shared and then nearly threw away. Joe Collins, the third Yankee first baseman of the day, had been put in there by Stengel as a defensive measure—and surely was. He made a nice stab of Whitey's wild throw, and two men were out. Covington went to third.

It was fitting that Red Schoendienst should drive in the Milwaukee run. More than almost any other member of the team, the gifted fielder is responsible for the Braves' appearance in the Series. There was no question about the single to center which he now delivered. Covington scored easily.

Casey Praises Spahn; Picks Shantz For 2nd

By TED SMITS

NEW YORK (AP) — Manager Casey Stengel of the triumphant New York Yankees paid generous tribute Wednesday to the veteran Milwaukee Braves pitcher his sluggers knocked out of the box.

"That Spahn, he pitched a heluva game," said Stengel as soon as he reached his dressing room.

It was obvious the Yankee manager admired the professional artistry of the lanky Warren Spahn. He coupled him in all his praise of his own left handed ace, Whitey Ford, the winner.

"In the clutch Ford can pitch, just like Spahn can pitch," said Stengel.

"Ford pitched himself into one jam and he pitched himself right out again," Stengel remarked concerning the sixth inning. That was when Ford walked the first two men to face him, Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews, and then struck out Hank Aaron, got Joe Adcock to ground out, and struck out Andy Pafko.

"What did you tell him when you went to the mound then," he was asked. "Did you tell him to be careful?"

Casey snorted.

"You gotta be careful all the time. He knows that. I just reminded him he still had one base open."

Stengel will send Bobby Shantz (11-5) out to pitch for the Yankees today.

"I might have gone with Bob Turley, but I had Turley and Bob Grim in the bullpen at the end of the game warming up, so I can't start Turley Thursday."

Taking some of the edge off the Yankee victory was the fact that Moose Skowron, the hard hitting first baseman, aggravated an old injury in the first inning and had to leave the game. It is doubtful if he can play again in the Series.

Skowron got to first on a fielder's choice—"and I tried to put something extra in my running. I felt something go again. Now my back is more crooked than when I hurt it the first time. The doctor says there is a muscle spasm on the left side."

Stengel said he might use either Harry Simpson or Joe Collins at first today.

"Just because Elston Howard dropped that ball, don't think he can't play first," said Stengel. "He's pretty graceful on the bag. That's the first ball he has dropped like that."

Howard's error in the fifth broke up a double play and for a time appeared to have put the Yankees in a hole, but Ford put down the threat.

Ford was the center of hearty congratulations after his sparkling victory.

"Mathews and Wes Covington impressed me most, of the Braves," he said. "Mathews never swung at a bad ball."

Ford said he thought his best pitch was his curve.

"Sal Maglie was very helpful to me before the Series in going over all the Braves' hitters, and our scouting report on the Braves fitted in exactly with what he told me," Whitey went on. "We used to talk about the Braves' hitters when we were doing sprints in the outfield."

Someone asked Stengel when he gave the sign to Jerry Coleman to bunt in the sixth, resulting in the perfect squeeze play that brought in the second Yankee run of the inning.

"Oh, he had an idea what he was going to do," said Stengel, evading an answer. "He executed it real good."

Coleman, one of the heroes with two hits in addition to the squeeze said he didn't know he was going to start the game until he saw the line-up in the morning papers.

"I hope we can continue to win," he smiled. "I hope I can play next year. I feel wonderful."

Husker Injury List Growing

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Two senior guards—Art Klein of Plymouth, Pa., and Don Kampe of Red Oak, Ia.—have been named by Coach Bill Jennings to lead the Nebraska Cornhuskers at Kansas State Saturday.

Both huskies are playing their third year for the Huskers and both are double letter winners.

Bus Mertes' Wildcats have been installed as 7 point favorites over the Huskers and Jennings was in no mood to argue the fact Wednesday.

He was wondering if he would be able to field 11 healthy players.

Picture the dilema:

Five players—including three top halfbacks—won't make the trip because of injuries. They are Carroll Zaruba, Doug Thomas and Larry Naviaux, the backs, and ends Bill Tuning and Ray Engel.

Further complicating preparations is the fact that two veteran tackles—Don Rhoda and Jerry Wheeler—and guard Jerry Petersen, a double monogram winner, are still nursing hurts and may not play.

While Jennings is planning on taking them to Manhattan, all three are listed as "doubtful participants."

Wednesday afternoon the Huskers were assigned a short session of defensive contact work in addition to a lengthy session of polishing.

The Nebraska two-deep chart as it shapes up for the K-State invasion lists 11 first-year men and two 1956 squadmen with limited experience (*denotes lettermen):

Centers—Dick McCashland* and LeRoy Zentic (soph.)

Right guards—Art Klein* and Don Kampe*.

Right tackles—Don Olson (soph) and Mal Dorhman (squadman.)

Quarterbacks—Harry Tolly (soph) and Chuck Smith (soph.)

Right halfbacks—Gene Sandage (squadman) and Max Martz (soph.)

Fullbacks—Jerry Brown* and George Cifra*.

Reports from Manhattan indicated Kansas State will have all hands ready for the Cornhuskers.

The Wildcats' leading gainer, halfback Gene Keady, suffered an eye injury against Brigham Young, but returned to duty Wednesday. All others are well and Mertes plans no lineup changes for Nebraska.

Mertes will field an all veteran first team: Don Zadnik and Jim Luzinski, ends; Jack Keelan and Wally Carlson, tackles; Gene Meier and Jaydee Stinson, guards; Ellis Rainsberger, center; Dick Corbin, quarterback; Keith Wilson and Gene Keady, halfbacks; and Ray Glaze, fullback.

The Wildcats are 10th in the nation—first in the Big Eight—in rushing with a total of 620 yards in two games. Nebraska ranks third in the loop with 315 yards.

Howdy, Hoppy!

Bill (Hopalong Cassidy) Boyd of cowboy fame will provide a western flavor to the Husker-Wildcat game Saturday. With the aid of his horse, Topper, Hoppy will perform before the game and at half-time in conjunction with the Parents Day celebration.

There are still a few bleacher tickets remaining for the Syracuse-Nebraska Band Day game, Oct. 19, business manager A. J. Lewandowski said Wednesday.

Because of the near-capacity crowd which will be on hand for the colorful football and music show, Lewandowski suggests that the fans plan to arrive early for the 2 p.m. contest.

Race Question In Navy-Georgia Tilt

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Navy officials will meet today in Washington to discuss the fate of the Oct. 19 Navy-Georgia Oyster Bowl football game here in the wake of a demand that the game be cancelled because of segregated seating.

Melvin T. Blassingham, general chairman of the Oyster Bowl program, said the meeting was prompted by a telegram sent by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

The telegram requested cancellation of the game "unless there will be no racial segregation in any of the seating available to the Navy or to the public."

Commenting on the request, Blassingham said, "We've never told the Naval Academy officials how they can dispose of the tickets. That's up to them."

Southeast Reserves Pass To 14-0 Win

BEATRICE —The Lincoln Southeast reserves came up with two last period scoring passes to defeat the Beatrice reserves here Wednesday, 14-0.

Jim Brownell took a 25-yard pitch from Dallas Svoboda for the first marker and then tossed to Don Brunk for the second touchdown, a 50-yard pass-run affair.

Southeast	0	0	0	14—14
Beatrice	0	0	0	0— 0

Southeast scoring: Touchdowns—Brownell (25, pass from Svoboda), Brunk (50, pass-run from Brownell). PAT—Brownell, Murray.

Extra Point Lifts Northeast Reserves

Halfback Jim Grabowski's successful plunge for an extra point in the final period of play carried the Lincoln Northeast reserves to a 13-12 victory over the Fairbury reserves here Wednesday.

The Northeast club took a 6-0 lead in the first quarter on a 15-yard run by Jim Marple, but Fairbury rallied to tie the game at halftime.

Merle Westling went 50 yards on a pass interception to give Northeast its final touchdown in the fourth period.

Spartans Hope To Settle Score With Pete Elliott

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Power-packed Michigan State, rated the No. 2 football team in the nation, is headed toward the University of California to settle some old scores.

New coach of the California Bears is 30-year-old Pete Elliott, former quarterback for the University of Michigan—the arch rival of Michigan State. Elliott starred on Michigan teams that beat State in 1947 and 1948, when MSU was just starting to become a football power.

Michigan State coaches have long memories and Elliott's role in those two defeats haven't been forgotten.

After the stunning 54-0 defeat of Indiana in the 1957 opener, fans already are comparing this Michitgan State team to outfits that lost only two games in four years between 1950 and 1953.

Michigan State has held a jinx on Coast teams in recent years. The last time a Far Western outfit beat the Spartans was when Oregon State pulled the trick with a 25-20 upset in 1949.

Since then, Michigan State has beaten UCLA in the Rose Bowl twice, defeated Oregon State four times, whipped Stanford twice and Washington State once.

MSU now is considered the front runner in the Big Ten battle for the Rose Bowl and conference title.

Coach Duffy Daugherty tried to take it easy on Indiana in the second half of the opener by sending in swarms of subs and used 67 players. But the eager sophomores matched the game-tested varsity and kept up a two-touchdowns-a-period pace.

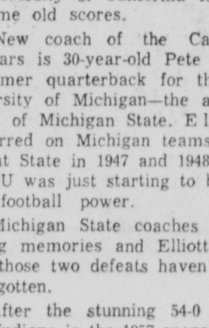

California, although defeated twice by a single touchdown, is expected to give the Spartans a better test than Indiana.

Daugherty is taking a balanced team of 14 seniors, 11 juniors and 13 sophomores on the 38-man traveling squad that will fly to Berkeley Thursday morning. The game will be the national television feature.

Utah St. QB Tops

Passing Arm Is Best, Too

By The Associated Press

Bob Winters, a senior quarterback from Yakima, Wash., has proved 77 per cent of Utah State's offensive in the first two games. His achievements also have made him the total offense leader of major college football teams at this early stage of the season.

Winters, who also is tops in the passing division, has completed 28 of 49 passes and has racked up 352 yards.

Statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s Service bureau show other individual leaders from among teams not in the top ten rankings.

Don Perkins of New Mexico leads the rushing category with 245 yards gained on 30 tries. Jerry Mertens of Drake is the top pass receiver, catching 11 for 224 yards and four touchdowns.

In other divisions, Ken Hall of Idaho is the nation's top punter, averaging 50.4 yards on five kicks. Howie Dare of Maryland has returned kickoffs 175 yards to pace that specialty. Carroll Johnston of Brigham Young has stolen three enemy passes for the interception lead.

Wray Carlton of Duke, who rolled up 26 points against Virginia Saturday, leads scorers with a total of 32 points.

For one-game individual performance, an Iowa junior, Randy Duncan, almost set a college record with his play against Utah State last Saturday. In ten offensive plays, nine passes and one rush, he accounted for 241 yards. This gave him an average of 24.4 a try, just short of the collegiate mark of 25.7 set by Jerry Drew of California against Oregon State in 1954.

Erdelatz Tabs Forrestal Top Flight Player

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Coach Eddie Erdelatz Wednesday tabbed Navy quarterback Tom Forrestal "as good as there is in the country" and made clear he is looking to the Cleveland, Ohio, senior to carry Navy's attack to the enemy at North Carolina Saturday.

"Forrestal has possibilities of being one of the greatest quarterbacks we've ever had," Erdelatz said of his No. 1 signel caller, passer and bamboozler of the opposition. "He's improving each week."

Forresal piloted the streamlined Navy offense through 46-6 and 33-6 victories over Boston College and William and Mary, respectively. The Middies, boomed pre-season as one of the Academy's best teams, will meet their first real test against North Carolina this week.

Erdelatz said Forrestal's improvement was largely responsible for the double reverse and other offensive wrinkles new to the Middie attack this year. These have been executed with precision by Forrestal and halfbacks Ned Oldham and Harry Hurst.

"It's too early to compare him with George Welsh (Navy's great quarterback of two years ago)," Erdelatz said. "After all we've only played two games."

Papa Knox Talks; Son Out $500

CHICAGO (INS)—George Halas, owner of the Chicago football team, declared Wednesday that former UCLA star Ronnie Knox may not get the $500 exhibition game fee the rest of the team will receive.

Halas, latest recipient of the verbal blasts of Ronnie's father, Harvey Knox, made the statement shortly after he talked by telephone with the father in Los Angeles.

The elder Knox began the feud when he called Halas from the coast and asked him about the $500 he claimed "was not going to be given Ronnie."

Halas at first labeled the charge as "ridiculous," but after the second phone conversation he said:

"This whole business has kind of teed me off. I told Harvey all the players on my club were told at a meeting last week that each would receive a like amount ($500) for appearing in the exhibition games. Mr. Knox said how come Ronnie didn't hear about it.

"I asked my players this morning if everyone heard and knew about it, and they were unanimous in their agreement that they did know about it."

Halas said he knows the elder Knox is a "betting man" and added, "If he wants to bet that Ronnie won't get paid, he'll win this one. I think I'll charge him $500 for amusement tax. This whole thing has been kind of funny but it can only go so far."

Eagles' Szafaryn Gets Operation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Len Szafayrn, left tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, Wednesday underwent surgery for removal of a cartilage in his left knee and to repair torn ligaments.

The injury, suffered in last Sunday's NFL opener at Los Angeles, will sideline Szafaryn for the remainder of the season.

Coach Hugh Devore said he will replace Szafaryn with Frank Wydo for Saturday night's home opener against the New York Giants.

Dr. Mike Manderino, former Eagle lineman, performed the operation and said Zzafaryn would remain in Hahnemann Hospital 10 days.

Szafaryn, who played six seasons with the Green Bay Packers, was obtained by the Eagles in a trade last August.

14th Oklahoman Down With Flu

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Another Oklahoma football player — the 14th—was hospitalized Wednesday, apparently suffering from the flu.

Alternate team tackle Joe Oujesky was sent to the infirmary after reporting for practice. All the others are back at practice, but three of them—ends Don Stiller and Joe Rector and tackle Doyle Jennings—worked out lightly in sweat clothes.

Prep Race, Futurity Head Trotting Card

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Torpid, the season's No. 1 name in harness racing, is entered in a prep race Thursday against four 3-year-olds including Adios Express, the only horse ever to beat him.

The race puts Torpid in the spotlight on the Lexington Trots card with 13 sophomores entered in the rich Kentucky Futurity, last leg of trotting's triple crown.

Torpid, showing a career record of 35 wins in 38 starts, already has won two legs of the pacing crown, the Cane Futurity and Little Brown Jug, and will use Thursday's race to prep for the $95,000 Messenger Stake at Yonkers on Oct. 25.

Torpid won 17 of 19 last year and 18 of 19 this season, all defeats being at the hands of Adios Express. Torpid, who has eight 2 minute miles this year, became the world's champ 2-year-old pacer here last year with a record of 1:58.

The pacers facing Torpid and Adios Express Thursday include Meadow Rhythm, Great Adios and Royal Melody.

Meantime, the Futurity appeared a toss up between Hoot Song, Yonkers Futurity winner and runner-up in the Hambletonian, and the four-horse entry from the Sol Camp Farm at Shafter, Calif.

Bobcats Will Play Chadron

PERU—Peru State's Bobcats will migrate this weekend to Chadron for their 27th meeting with the Eagles Saturday at 2 p.m.

Thus far the 1957 Bobcat season has produced a 13-7 noon-conference win over Central Missouri State of Warrensburg, and the 26-13 NCC defeat at the hands of Kearney last Saturday in their Oak Bowl debut. Chadron has a comparable record—a non NCC win from South Dakota School of Mines, and a loss to Nebraska Wesleyan.

The series between the two State Teachers Colleges began in 1923 with a 10-10 tie. Since that time a total of 27 games have been played, with the Peru Bobcats winning 18 and Chadron 8.

Coach Dick Beechner's Lincoln High reserves jumped to a 14-0 halftime lead and then poured on the coal in the second half to take a 48-0 victory over the Lincoln High sophomores Wednesday.

Gregg Ortez, Bill Fowles, Steve DeBrown, Jim Stanslaus, Bill West, Pete Ortiz and Howard Strain each scored touchdowns for the victors.

The Link reserves, now with a 2-0 record, play at Hastings next Wednesday.

'No Complaints, We Just Lost'—Haney

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — "No complaints, we just didn't get the hitting and they whipped us in a good ball game."

Fred Haney, the snow-haired little manager of the Milwaukee Braves, thus shrugged off his team's 3-1 opening game defeat at the hands of the champion New York Yankees in the World Series.

"What the devil, we're not discouraged," the crease-faced skipper added. "We've lost games before and come back. This one doesn't mean a thing. I think we'll still win the Series.

"Our boys just weren't getting hold of the ball, but they will and that'll be a different story."

Haney and his athletes had highest praise for Whitey Ford, the Yankee lefthander who set the National League champions down with five hits and pitched himself out of trouble in the sixth after walking the first two men.

"That fellow was curving us to death, and he had great control," the Milwaukee manager said. "I don't think we have a pitcher in the National League quite like him—one who throws so many curves. He must have thrown curves on 80 per cent of his pitches."

Hank Aaron, the Braves' clean-up man and .322 hitter, registered a mild complaint about the third strike call in the sixth inning when he tried to check a swing.

Johnny Logan and Ed Mathews had walked to start the inning and then Aaron, with two strikes and no balls, went for a low pitch, then tried to hold back.

"I'm sure I checked it, too," he said.

But Haney refused to second guess the plate umpire, Joe Paparella. "If the umpire said Hank swung, he must have swung. You don't argue things like that."

The proud and eager Braves were crestfallen when they trooped to the dressing room from the playing field after the defeat, marching single - file into their quarters with lips set tight.

They talked of the game in a quiet, matter-of-fact fashion blaming their own lack of hitting for the setback and taking no credit away from the Yankees' Ford.

"We have seen better pitching and won," said Red Schoendienst, "but you have to hand it to that little guy (Ford) out there. He had wonderful control and that's what counted."

Aaron said, "I don't know why we weren't hitting but we weren't. No, the Staduim shadows didn't bother us at all."

One play which provoked comment in the Milwaukee dressing room was the squeeze play in the sixth when Yogi Berra scored the Yankees' third run.

To most of the 69,476 fans, it looked as if pitcher Ernie Johnson, who had replaced Warren Spahn, had a play at the plate. Instead he threw out Jerry Coleman at first.

"I didn't think there was a chance," Johnson said.

Haney backed him up on it. "Johnson did right. There wasn't a chance of getting Yogi at the plate."

The Milwaukee manager announced that Lew Burdette (17-9) would be his starting pitcher Thursday and that the line-up would remain the same against the Yankees' Bobby Shantz.

"We'll be all right," he added.

Poulson Will Invite Bums' O'Malley West

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Norris Poulson said Wednesday he will invite owner Walter O'Malley to come to Los Angeles before the city council votes next Monday on a proposed deal to transfer the Brooklyn Dodgers here next year.

Two councilmen who have so far opposed the transaction, Patrick D. McGee and Earle D. Baker, said they might vote for the ordinance next week if O'Malley or an official representative personally talked over the deal with the council to settle questions still not answered.

Poulson conferred with Baker and McGee and then announced he is trying to contact O'Malley.

"I don't think O'Malley or his representative will be at all reluctant to come to Los Angeles," the mayor said. "There is nothing to hide about this deal."

McGee originated the move to get someone from the Dodgers here before the final vote.

Passage of the ordinance to legalize the Dodgers transfer will require a two-thirds majority in the council, or 10 of the 15 votes. Poulson has assured O'Malley there will be at least 10 votes for the ordinance.

Waterfowl, Grouse Seasons To Open

The hunting season on ducks, grouse, coot and jacksnipes opens in Nebraska Saturday.

Duck hunting should be good, the State Game Commission indicated.

A substantial increase in the number of Nebraska-reared ducks entering the Central Flyway this fall was foreseen.

Rains during the year improved potholes and lakes with the result the population of breeding ducks increased significantly and production has been good.

Drought prevailed in other areas of the Central Flyway but a Game Commission spokesman said there should be no "significant" change in the fall flight.

Coot production appears above average and a small increase in the fall flight is expected.

On grouse, the spring breeding population was down but preliminary brood observations indicate improved reproduction this year.

Shooting on waterfowl gets underway one half hour before sunrise. Bag and possession limits are 5 and 10, respectively, on ducks; 10 and 10 on coot; 8 and 8 on jacksnipe, and 2 and 4 on grouse.

Grouse shooting opens at sunrise.

Sundown ends the hunting day on both grouse and waterfowl.

Hunters this year are expected to figure out the exact sunrise and sunset times at their hunting locations by calculating from official U.S. Weather Bureau sunrise and sunset tables as available for cities having weather bureaus.

A north-south line through the city becomes a reference point. One minute is added for each 13 miles west of the reference line, or subtracted for each 13 miles east of the reference line.

Trouble Is, They Might Become Beards

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ten members of the Philadelphia Eagles football team of the National Football League are growing mustaches and have vowed not to cut them until the team wins.

The Eagles lost six exhibition games and their official opener last week end. This week end they meet the champion New York Giants, who are favored heavily.

Billy Bruton To Undergo Surgery

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Billy Bruton, outfielder for the National League champion Milwaukee Braves, will undergo surgery for a knee ailment Thursday.

Dr. Don O'Donoghue said that Bruton had torn knee ligaments and "we'll try to build him some new ones." He said Bruton probably will be hospitalized at least a week and probably a little longer.

The speedy Milwaukee outfielder was sidelined half of the season with the injury.

Harold Rother Of Wolbach Star Of Week

By AL BEEBE
Star Staff Sports Writer

One of the reasons Wolbach is pushing Diller for the top ranking in Nebraska six-man football circles is a swift runner and accurate passer named Harold Rother.

Rother, in leading Wolbach to three straight wins and the No. 2 position behind Diller in The Star's weekly ratings, has already scored a total of 84 points in the three contests.

His performance last week against Palmer earned him The Star "Football Player of The Week" award.

All he did was score three times himself and pass for two more touchdowns in the 47-6 romp.

Rother, along with these other top performers in games last week, will receive a "Football Player of The Week" card.

Lincoln Southeast—Dave Myers and Dick Harr, for their running against Geneva.
Lincoln Northeast—Gene Smith, who scored twice in victory over Fremont.
Fullerton—Dwain Carlson and Dick Travers, who scored two apiece in 42-0 win.
Wahoo—Stu Veulek, who scored all his team's points in big win over Valley, 14-0.
Seward Concordia—Dave Kroger scored all points in 13-0 win over St. Bonaventure.
Seward—Larry Bluhm, scored on runs of 40, 31 yards against York.
Wilber—Bruce Sebet, whose extra point nipped Hebron 7-6.
Grand Island—Rozer Meyers, whose two last period TDs beat Columbus.
Holdrege—Jim Huge, scored all points in 13-6 win over Kearney.
Omaha Cathedral—Bill Smith, scored three times against Pius X.
Western—Dick Drake, scored four times and added extra point against Ohiowa.
Ulysses—Stuart Dey, quarterbacked 25-19 upset of Dwight Assumption, scoring twice himself.
Deshler—Jim Cabrera scored three touchdowns against Guide Rock.
Brock—Bob Reimers, scored once, threw three TD passes, but mostly for defensive work in 50-0 victory over Table Rock.

During a hot hitting streak in May (1957), Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals hit safely in 24 straight games.

Prep Harriers Meet Is Oct. 19

The 1957 Nebraska High School Cross Country Championships, sponsored by the University of Nebraska, will be staged at Lincoln's Pioneers Park Saturday, Oct. 19, at 10:45 a.m.

A new individual champion will be crowned at the completion of the 1.9 mile race because the 1956 winner, Martin Mason, Ord, does not return.

Last year Creighton Prep was the unofficial team champion with Lincoln High in second place.

This year's innovations include:

—Five contestants will be allowed to represent each team with the top four actually counting in the scoring column.

—An official team title will be awarded with a trophy going to the winning club and medals to members of the squad.

As in the past, medals will be awarded to the first 10 place winners.

There are no official entry forms but entrants should register with University of Nebraska track coach Frank Segine, University of Nebraska Coliseum, Lincoln.

Hawks Sign Hull

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League Wednesday signed Robert "Bobby" Hull, 17-year-old amateur of the St. Catherine Tee Pees Juniors of the Ontario Hockey Assn.

Hull, a 5 feet, 10 center who weighs 190, will leave with the Hawks when they break camp at St. Catherine's, Ont., Friday morning.

Hampton Pool To Stay At Toronto

TORONTO (AP)—Manager Director Lew Hayman of the Toronto Argonauts said Wednesday Hampton Pool would coach the Big Four Football Union team again in 1958.

The announcement followed a vote of confidence in Pool given by the Argo board of management on Hayman's recommendation.

Pool signed a two-year contract with the Argonauts last January. The team is winless in seven Big Four games this season.

Menu Gets Change

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rather than be charged with treason in this baseball-mad city, the manager of the Milwaukee Journal employes' cafeteria hastily changed Wednesday's luncheon menu from "Yankee bean soup" to "Braves bean soup." And everyone was happy.

Army Chief Brucker Blasts Griffin Claims

Charges On Paratroopers 'Ridiculous'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Brucker Wednesday night accused Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia of defaming Army paratroopers sent to Little Rock, Ark.

Brucker quoted Griffin as saying in a speech that troops of the 101st Airborne Division have been "giving themselves over to abandoned revels that would be horrifying in an occupied enemy country."

The Army Secretary added, in a statement:

"These allegations by Gov. Griffin sound like those of a demagogue. They are ridiculous, inflammatory and wholly without foundation in fact."

Brucker said many members of the 101st are from the South, and from Georgia.

"They are no different from any other young Americans and they are neither brutal nor are they indulging in 'revels' of any sort," he said.

Brucker said only three of the more than 1,000 federal troops stationed in Little Rock for the past eight days have been involved in any type of incident.

"The only incident . . . occurred," he said, "when three soldiers who were absent without leave were apprehended in a tavern in north Little Rock last Saturday night. These men were promptly punished by their superiors for having been AWOL."

Brucker said he issued his statement because he had just read accounts "of a speech delivered by the governor of Georgia in which he attempts to defame the ment of the 101st. . . "

Paper Curtain

He quoted Griffin as claiming there is "an impenetrable paper curtain thrown around Little Rock."

"This is absurd and completely false," Brucker said. "The United States Army has actively assisted representatives of news media from every section of the country to obtain and report the full facts bearing upon this entire situation. The imputation that some 230 newsmen in Little Rock are inaccurately or incompletely reporting the news is incredible."

Base Adoption Program Fall Plans Studied

About 50 members of the squadron adoption program steering committee met at the Lincoln Air Force Base Wednesday noon to discuss possible fall and winter activities.

The program, undertaken last spring by 25 Lincoln civic clubs, had suspended activities during the summer because of numerous vacations.

Discussed were plans for inviting airmen to picnics, luncheons, city tours, basketball games, dances and Christmas parties. The civic groups will emphasize inviting airmen into Lincoln homes during the fall and winter months.

Youth Projects

Also discussed were plans to invite airmen to work on youth projects with club members.

The committee toured seven squadron day rooms recently improved by funds raised under the adoption program. A total of $7,000 raised by various projects was used to purchase furniture for these day rooms and the committee considered plans to raise additional money to furnish 18 more day rooms.

Col. Henry C. Godman, base commander, told the group the adoption program has had a definite, beneficial effect upon the morale and retention of men at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Bad Check Charge Brings Probation

William Babbitt, 34, of Lincoln, was placed on three years probation Wednesday by District Judge Harry A. Spencer in connection with a bad check charge.

Babbitt pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to a charge of uttering a forged instrument in connection with the issuing of a check for $50 last Feb. 25. Judge Spencer found him guilty.

AEC Shows Off Latest Nuclear Development Tool

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission showed off the latest in nuclear development tools Wednesday and forecast fantastic nuclear developments in the future.

The new tool is a 14½ million dollar Engineering Test Reactor (ETR) for testing machinery in the fires of atomic fission. Some 300 representatives of industry, government and the press attended the unveiling and accompanying symposiums.

W. Kenneth Davis, director of Reactor Development for the AEC, predicted that by 1980 there will be more than 2,200 nuclear plants generating electric power in the United States. He said 17 new test reactors will be necessary for their development.

Louis H. Roddis Jr., deputy director of Reactor Development, said that an Advanced Engineering Test Reactor (AETR) already is in the making. He said it will cost between 75 and 100 million dollars.

Plutonium

Roddis also disclosed that plutonium is soon to be tried as a fuel for a Materials Test Reactor (MTR) which has been in operation at the National Reactor Testing Station in eastern Idaho for some time. He said the MTR will be "the first large reactor to operate entirely on plutonium fuel."

Financing projects needed to keep the U.S. first in peacetime atomic development was the theme of a talk by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash). He advanced what he called a "joint venture formula" for co-operation between private industry and government.

Jackson said private industry should build prototype plants under contract to the AEC. But he said the plants "would be paid for and owned by the public. . . They would be enjoined by law from competing with public or privately-owned utilities. . .

"When atomic power becomes commercially practical, it will be sold by public and private utilities, not the federal government."

Ray Johnson, Dean Of State's Elected Officials, Files

State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, who has served more consecutive elected terms than any constitutional officer in Nebraska history, filed with the secretary of state Wednesday for renomination.

Another term would be his 11th for Johnson in the state auditor's post.

His filing was the first received for the auditor's position.

'Church Not A Museum For Saints'

. . . Pastor Asserts

Some church members mistakenly regard the church as a "museum for saints" rather than a "hospital for sinners," the Rev. George Lundquist of Milwaukee, Wis., said Wednesday night.

The Rev. Mr. Lundquist is one of 22 missionaries who have been conducting nightly services at Lincoln area churches as part of Lutheran Evangelism Mission. The services continue through Thursday night.

Speaking at Grace Lutheran Church in Lincoln, the Rev. Mr. Lundquist said the "stuffy church member who is all wrapped up in his own goodness, who wants to keep the church an exclusive little club, who has no heart of compassion for all the wretches and unhappy souls around him" should be castigated.

The Rev. Floyd E. Lauersen of Duluth, Minn., speaking at Lincoln's First Lutheran Church, said that profanity is not the only way in which the commandment against taking God's name in vain is violated, "it is also violated by hypocracy."

Addressing the congregation of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church in Lincoln, the Rev. Edward A. Hansen of Hutchinson, Minn., said many churches are failing to make use of a "great reservoir of untapped manpower" in those who have been saved by Christ.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

CPPD Willing To Attend Power Meet

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—R. L. Schacht, general manager of the Consumers Public Power District, said Wednesday that if Gov. Anderson decides to call a conference among power leaders to co-ordinate plans for heavy duty transmission lines, Consumers will be glad to take part.

Schacht said he was commenting on published reports that the Governor might call such a conference. He said he had not received any official notice of a conference.

Gov. Anderson said Tuesday he had no plans at present to call power agencies together to talk about the problems resulting from plans of two groups seeking to build the heavy duty lines, but he would be willing to call such a conference.

Consumers and the Nebraska Generation and Transmission Cooperative have announced separate plans to build 230 KV lines to bring Missouri Basin power into Nebraska.

The G and T group has applied to the State Railway Commission for permission to build its proposed line to Tamora Junction near Seward, but Schact said CPPD's application will not be filed until further action is taken by Consumers directors.

REA WANTS TO DISCUSS PLANS

HOSKINS, Neb.—Lyle Marotz, president of the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn., said Wednesday that the NREA is always willing to negotiate and would welcome a conference with other power officials and the governor.

"We are all trying to serve the consumer at the lowest cost," he said.

He expressed hope that some action might be taken at a meeting of the ground rules committee Thursday of the Nebraska Rural Power Assn.

Rail Express Asks Agency Close At Two State Towns

The Railway Express Agency asked the State Railway Commission for permission to close its agencies and discontinue services at Bloomington and Marion, two southern Nebraska border towns.

Bloomington is near Franklin. Marion is located southeast of McCook.

The commission will consider the requests at a later date.

The Burlington Railroad, meanwhile, has been authorized to discontinue its agency at Inavale, and to discontinue the services of the custodian at Belden, the commission reported.

MORE IN BEER, LIQUOR TAXES

Nebraska collected more money in beer and liquor taxes and license fees during September than in the same month last year. But collections for the year to date still trail those of last year, the monthly report of the State Liquor Control Commission disclosed Wednesday.

September collections totaled $310,379, compared with $242,623 in August and $292,668 in September a year ago.

The revenue brought the year's total to $2,249,331, compared with $2,260,723 in the same nine-month period last year.

Liquor taxes yielded $193,694 in September, while beer taxes brought in $90,129. Taxes on fortified wines yielded $20,506 and on light wines, $5,015.

Thornton Judges Arkansas Beef

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS)—Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, who has been a vacation host of President Eisenhower, showed up in Little Rock Wednesday.

But he assured reporters he is not in town to help settle the school integration dispute between Mr. Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus.

Alarmed Haitians Seek Permission To Enter U.S.

. . . As Fear Of Civil War Increases

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Alarmed by prospects of civil war, Haitians flocked to the U.S. Embassy Wednesday seeking permission to go to the United States.

Many worried Haitians openly advocated the return of U.S. Marines. The Marines occupied this Caribbean island from 1915 to 1934 — a period of peace and relative prosperity.

The ruling military junta seems to be on edge as the Oct. 14 date for the seating of Haiti's new president draws closer.

Dr. Francois Duvalier was the winner of the election, on the basis of unofficial returns, but backers of former Sen. Louis Dejoie have warned of bloodshed if Duvalier is proclaimed president. Dejoie, who is now in hiding, declared the election a wholesale fraud.

Haiti's relations with the United States took a bad turn this week after the death of an American citizen in the hands of police.

Junta officials say the American, textile merchant Shibley J. Talamas, died of a heart attack when he struggled to reach a machine gun while undergoing questioning by police. The 300-pound, six footer was held on a charge of having guns after four Haitian police were killed in a mountain ambush.

(In Washington, the U.S. State Department disclosed the note charged Haitian police with "murder by beating" and demanded that the lives and property of other Americans in Haiti be respected. It rejected the official Haitian explanation for Talamas' death and said examination of the body by two American doctors showed he was beaten. The note demanded "trial and punishment of Haitian officers and employes responsible for the assassination . . .")

Faulty Handling Livestock Loss $8 Million Yearly

OMAHA (AP)—The nation has an annual loss of eight million dollars in crippled and dead livestock through faulty handling, according to Dr. Joe Rickenbacker, agricultural economist of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Reliable estimates of bruise losses are at least double that figure, he added.

Dr. Rickenbacker disclosed this condition at the third annual Omaha Livestock Handlers' dinner Wednesday night.

The event was sponsored by Omaha area livestock and market interests in co-operation with Livestock Conservation, Inc. It was planned particularly for those who handle or supervise the handling of livestock at home, on the road or at the market. About 250 persons attended.

State GOP Post To George Cook

George B. Cook of Lincoln, executive vice president of the Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Nebraska, has been named treasurer of the Nebraska Republican Party's budget and finance committee.

The appointment was announced by J. O. Peck of Columbus, committee chairman.

Cook, formerly of Beatrice, holds directorships also in such firms as the Henry Holt Publishing Co. of New York, Investors Diversified Services in Minneapolis and Lincoln Industrial Development Corp., and is a trustee of the University of Nebraska Foundation.

Concert Group Opens Drive

About 300 workers Wednesday night attended a kick-off dinner which opened the drive for a goal of 5,000 members for the newly-formed Lincoln Community Concert Association.

The association will present five concerts to its membership this season, with top billing to a performance of "La Traviata" by the NBC Opera Company Oct. 22. The American Ballet Theatre will follow on Nov. 13. The concerts will be at Pershing Municipal Auditorium.

Mrs. Alan Katskee and Mrs. Samuel Simpson, campaign co-chairmen, introduced the following division chairmen who will work under them during the drive:

Janice Weil, Harry Peterson, Virginia Guhin, Mrs. Burnham Yates, C. G. Hrubesky, Betty Lou Willet, Mrs. Charles Flansburg, Don Wilson, Mrs. Dorthy Diaz, Grace Horan, Dr. Harold Horn, Marilyn Heck, Mrs. Robert Knoll, Jack Snider, Phillip Sorensen, Ted Butterfield, Mrs. Ralph Robinson Jr., Patricia Putney Zimmer

Nate C. Holman, president of the association, presided at the dinner.

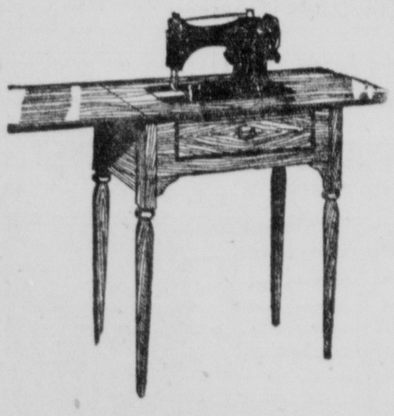

Brain Hemorrhage

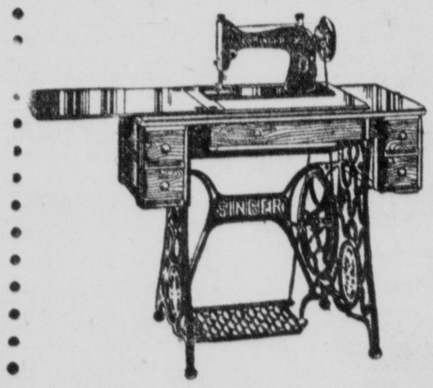

BEIRUT (AP) — Hamif Frangieh, a leading candidate for president in Lebanon's next election, suffered a brain hemorrhage. Frangieh, 55, is chief of the opposition parties fighting the pro-Western regime headed by President Camille Chamoun and Premier Sami Solh.

Stan Delaplane's POSTCARD

Here is a statement I run across in the daily papers. And it shows we journalists must be on our toes.

"Americans opened 42 billion cans last year—259 for every man, woman and child in the country."

This is released by the can people. I do not know about their figures. Probably there were 42 billion cans opened. But they were not opened by women and children. That is the fallacy. We must watch out for these things.

☆ ☆ ☆

Most cans are opened by the lord and master. The squire of the household comes home from a hard day at the office. He puts on the slippers and begins to engage in thoughtful work—you know, reading the paper or catching the TV program.

Pretty soon there is a cry for help from the kitchen.

"My love," says the lady of the house, "can you open this can for me?"

I do not know how these things are worked out on timing. But this cry comes just as the good guy is about to scrag the bad guy.

The gent must then arise and wrestle with the can. The lady does not want the can opened. She wants company.

"You do it so well," she says. "Now tell me everything that happened downtown today."

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the direct approach. Ladies have worked out another fascinating way to break their loved ones loose from the day's rest.

A lady takes a can and puts it on the slippery sink. She then takes one of those sharp-pointed can openers and puts the point on top of the can.

Does she give it a sharp blow and puncture the can?

No, sir. She begins to press. In order to get more leverage, she puts her face down on her hands. "Ugh, ugh," she says.

The gent looks up. The can is skittering all over the sink and his storm-and-strife is about to lose an eye. It is the most distracting thing in the world.

"Good grief!" he screams. "You want to cut your throat? Give me that opener."

The lady relinquishes it. She gives him a little helpless smile.

"You do it so much better," she says. End of TV program.

☆ ☆ ☆

The odd thing about this is madam usually has about three can openers strapped to the wall. Foolproof jobs where you attach the can and give a couple of turns to the crank.

But ladies claim they cannot use these things. Not if they can get the breadwinner out of the easy chair.

"It seems so complicated," they say helplessly. "Now, Joe, don't bother. You just stay where you are and rest."

Meanwhile she is about to gouge an eye. It is like trying to rest with somebody playing Russian roulette in the next room.

☆ ☆ ☆

There is also the sardine can. The sardine can is equipped with a key welded to the backside. When you put this key on the tab and start to wind, the metal tab leaves off.

"I don't know how it happened," says the lady. "Why don't they make them so you can open them?"

The gentleman then goes to work with a screwdriver and a pair of pliers.

Coffee cans are also a puzzle. By the time madam admits she is whipped, the key is all wound up in a sharp snarl of tin ribbon. I estimate the time for fixing this at five perspiring minutes.

"You might as well sit down at the table," says the lady. "The peas will be done in two minutes. Thanks for opening the can."

We should point out that this happens only 259 evenings of the year. The other 106 evenings you can rest. Or open your own 259 cans.

WAYNE, Nebr.—Miss Marie Hoffman says: "I didn't think anything would do what Baker's Hair Tonic has done for me. ADA Gives Low 6 Per Cent Rating To Nebraskans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nebraska's Senators and Congressmen were rated a low 6 per cent by the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) for their performance in the last session of Congress.

The ADA rating means in its opinion the Nebraskans—all Republicans—took what it called the liberal position on only 6 per cent of the key issues.

The ADA rating of individuals was: Sen. Carl T. Curtis 17 per cent liberal; Sen. Roman Hruska 33 per cent; Rep. Glenn Cunningham 22 per cent; and Reps. Phil Weaver, R. D. Harrison and A. L. Miller, all zero.

The ratings were based on 12 key issues in the Senate and nine in the House.

Surviving are his mother, who lives in Ord; one brother, Gordon of Omaha; a sister, Mrs. Maxine Dillman of Denver, and five nephews.

Back To School

MOSCOW (AP) — Several million Soviet adults started back to school this week for a course of studies as old as the Bolsheviks. For the next eight months or so they will attend regular classes sponsored by the Communist Party in Marxist-Leninist theory, propaganda, philosophy and history of the party.

OSHAWA, Ont. (AP) — A big convertible has been refitted here with a plastic bubble top and special interior lighting for use by Queen Elizabeth II on her mid-October Canadian-U.S. tour. After being used in Ottawa, the car will be flown to Washington in time for the arrival there of the queen and her husband, Prince Philip.

WAYNE, Neb. — The Redeemer Lutheran Church council voted to study the recommendations of the building and finance committees further before taking action on a proposal to build a T-shaped $70,000 addition to the church.

Payment Due

CHEYENNE, Okla. (AP) — City officials here are clamping down on persons who fail to pay their water bills on time. Water service is cut off promptly on the 15th of each month to residents who have not paid. But the slow-paying customers aren't forced to do without water — they are welcome to haul water from a hydrant in the city park.

Lincoln Offers Sewer Plans Of $1 Million Soon

Plans and specifications on an additional $1 million in sanitary sewer projects will go out in the next two or three weeks, according to Mayor Bennett Martin.

Bids on initial projects totalling an estimated $1.2 million are due Oct. 23 under the city's $3.5 million sewer improvement program.

There's "quite a little interest" from out-of-state contractors in the proposed projects, according to city officials.

Martin said the city would have a fair guide on its project estimates when the Oct. 23 bids are opened.

NEBRASKA GAS TAX COLLECTIONS PULL AHEAD DURING SEPTEMBER

The monthly report of the Division of Motor Fuels disclosed Wednesday that Nebraska's 1957 gas tax collections, which a month ago were running behind those of a year ago, pulled ahead again in September.

Collections in September on gas manufactured or imported during August totaled $3,133,332, according to Clay Wright, division chief. That's down from the $3,680,023 collected in the previous month but tops the $2,962,218 collected in September a year ago.

The figures do not yet reflect the one cent increase in gas tax—from six to seven cents—which took effect Sept. 20.

9-Month Total Up

September collections boosted the gas tax take for the first nine months of the year to $24,624,755, a shade ahead of the $24,404,359 collected in the same period last year.

Special fuel taxes collected this year total $974,753, compared with $832,712 in the same nine-month period last year, but aircraft fuel taxes have declined to $318,799 from $323,847 for the period.

Special fuels taxes collected in September totaled $121,764, compared with $103,820 in the same month last year. Aircraft fuel tax collections in September totaled $31,768, compared with $43,036 in the same month a year ago.

Stock Rally Continues

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue chips showed the way as the stock market continued to rally Wednesday in moderate trading.

Leading issues advanced from fractions to around 2 points. The rise exceeded Tuesday's and led to an estimated boost of approximately $1,860,000,000 in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Turnover would probably have hit around the two million share level if not for the opening of the World Series. As the ball game started, trading slowed to a walk and with the slackening of activity some gains were reduced and losses appeared.

Volume for the day totaled 1,760,000 shares compared with 1,680,000 Tuesday.

The market's ability to pick itself up from the 1957 floor Tuesday was reported to have bred confidence for the near term, at least, analysts said. The technical recovery from this anticipated support level led to general expectations that the rise would continue until the next resistance level in the charts is encountered.

Aside from that, the news was not discouraging. It included reported prospects of higher government spending in the next fiscal year than was expected previously and a new boost in instalment debt.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose $1.50 to $168.00 with the industrials up $2.10, the rails up $1.40 and the utilities up 40 cents.

Of 1,123 issues traded, gains totaled 659 and losses 233. There were 48 new lows for the year, cutting Tuesday's total nearly in half, and there were 10 new highs the most since Sept. 19.

On the American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 520,000 shares compared with 570,000 Tuesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. government bonds and corporate securities closed Wednesday in routine trading.

Utilities were strong in the corporate list and investment quality issues edged higher. Rails and industrials closed firm. Only foreign dollar bonds ran counter to the trend by easing fractions.

Long range government bonds exhibited strength all day, although the trading pace slackened in early afternoon with the opening of the World Series baseball game.

GOOD DEMAND LIFTS GRAIN, SOYA PRICES

CHICAGO (AP) — Improved demand for grains and soybeans lifted futures prices on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Soybeans led the advance, with the distant July contract up more than two cents a bushel on limited offerings. Demand for beans came principally from processors.

New style wheat closed ½ lower to ⅞ higher, corn ¼ to ⅝ higher, oats ¾ to 1⅛ up, rye was up 1¾ to 2½ cents, soybeans advanced 1⅜ to 2¼ cents.

Firmness in soybeans was spurred by farmer resistance to current prices which, because of wide cash discounts, are generally below the government support level.

Reports from major soybean producing areas indicate producers are storing increasingly larger amounts of new crop beans in the hope of higher prices later in the season.

Demand for beans was good despite the expanding harvest and mostly favorable crop weather. Soybean oils also were higher.

Nearby wheat contracts advanced while the more distant deliveries ended fractionally lower.

Demand for the nearby bread grains came from flour mills, reflecting improved sales of hard wheat flour to domestic bakers. The wheat futures trade also was affected by Japan's purchase of 1,200,000 bushels of U.S. Pacific Coast white wheat for November shipment and a cargo of Canadian wheat.

There was no particular feature in the rye market, which scored gains up to 2½ cents a bushel. Traders attributed the advance partly to firmness in wheat and "speculative sentiment."

Steadiness in corn was credited to buying for industrial accounts. The upturn came despite continued bearish conditions created by favorable weather for the maturing corn crop and persistent selling by the Commodity Credit Corp. Overnight the CCC sold 2,090,000 bushels of corn to exporters.

Lack of pressure and a good premium for cash oats of good quality stimulated buying in oats futures. Small lard stocks and higher prices for hogs helped lard futures advance.

Rate On Corn To Be $1.40

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department Wednesday set final corn price supports at an average $1.40 a bushel and raised support levels of barley, grain sorghums, oats and rye.

The $1.40 corn rate applies to the 894-county commercial corn area and is four cents above the preliminary support rate announced earlier this year. Growers in the non-commercial area will be paid $1.27 per bushel.

Commercial area growers who ignored acreage allotment this year were granted a $1.10 support.

New rates on other feed grains: barley, 95 cents a bushel; grain sorghums $1.86 per hundredweight; oats, 61 cents a bushel; rye, $1.18 per bushel.

Coronary Heart Disease Will Be Aired At Meeting

OMAHA (AP)—The eighth annual scientific sessions of the Nebraska Heart Assn. opening Thursday will examine the problem of coronary heart disease which causes heart attacks.

Several hundred physicians and medical students are expected to attend the two and one-half day session.

Research to reduce the heart attack problem will be reported on by six nationally-recognized experts. Their reports will cover heart pain, effects of fatty diets, new drug treatments and management of longterm heart cases.

Rep. A. L. Miller of Kimball will address the annual awards dinner.

Election of new officers and adoption of a goal for the 1958 heart fund drive are high on the agenda of the meeting.

Dr. Willis D. Wright of Omaha is the president of the group.

Other matters to come up will be the possibility of establishing a part-time office at Lincoln, adoption of revised by-laws and reaffirmation of the policy of remaining out of all united fund community campaigns.

The campaign advisory committee has recommended a 1958 heart fund goal of $225,000, a 10 per cent increase.

'Spy' Gives Up

VIENNA (AP) — Radio Prague said "an American spy" of Czechoslovak nationality has given himself up to the Czechoslovak police.

The spy, identified by the radio only as Rudolf B., gave details of the activity of Josef Ivcen, who was earlier arrested by the Czechoslovak authorities and charged with spying for the United States.

National Probe Into Economic Plight Of Clergymen Authorized

NEW YORK (AP)—A full-fledged, national inquiry to "find out the facts" about the oft-reputed economic plight of clergymen was authorized Wednesday by the National Council of Churches.

The project, to be financed by a $33,500 grant from the Rockefeller Brothers' Fund, was approved at a meeting of the council's 250-member general board, its interim governing body.

The board, representing 30 protestant and orthodox denominations in this country with about 35 million members, also:

1. Hailed President Eisenhower's handling of the integration crisis in Little Rock, Ark., but sidetracked a proposed commendation of the integration stands of "some southern governors" outside Arkansas.

The resolution also praised Christian leaders in Little Rock and in other integration-troubled areas for their efforts in behalf of justice, reconciliation, law and self-discipline.

Corruption

2. Directed the council's Department of Church and Economic Life to draft a resolution concerning recently-exposed corruption in some labor unions, for presentation to the board meeting Thursday.

This action came on a motion by Alan Philips, a retired Methodist businessman of Minneapolis, after Mrs. Theodore Wedel, a Washington, D.C., Episcopalian, declared the churches could not ignore the labor-corruption problem.

3. Heard a lengthy report on the Arab-Israeli conflict, declaring that "the world faces a dilemma" in the Middle East, and calling for wider study of the issues by Christians, and greater aid to Arab refugees.

In ordering the study of clergy income, the council cited this objective:

"To assist the churches and laymen in developing a better understanding of the remuneration needed by minsters to enable them to provide more effective service to their local congregations and communities."

Although sampling surveys have been made of ministers' salaries, no complete study, including benefits some receive through free housing and other allowances, has been made in this country before.

Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, New York Lutheran leader and head of the council's policy and strategy committee, said "it has been widely considered that pay to clergymen has lagged far behind income in other professions." He added that it is necessary to get reliable facts in the hope that action will result from them.

The resolution lauding President Eisenhower for "upholding the decisions of the federal courts" on integration and for taking steps "to restore law and order" hit a brief snag over a proposed added commendation to some southern governors.

Moral Level

The Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner of Philadelphia said several southern governors have "expressed themselves on a moral level" on the desegration issue, and deserved Christian compliments.

"They have distinguished themselves clearly from the governor of Arkansas," he added. He mentioned no others individually.

He also proposed a word of appreciation to Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) for his "work of reconciliation" in the integration conflict.

But these suggestions were turned down—for the moment—by the meeting. Officials said a separate statement, citing certain individuals for their actions, may be offered Thursday.

ASIAN FLU EPIDEMIC REACHES NEW YORK

SHOES STRETCHED BY NEW LIQUID

Suffer no more the pinch of tight shoes. A new liquid stretch is aimed to relieve foot woes. The liquid formula was discovered quite accidentally by Frederick Schaeffer, a Los Angeles inventor.

What the liquid does is to increase the size of leather by as much as eight percent . . . and permanently, too! There's no shrinkage at a later time, as usually comes with ordinary shoe-stretching, because this chemical solution works on the cells of leather to make them larger, softer and more pliable.

The colorless liquid comes in a small bottle and takes no effort to apply. Just pour it on a cloth and rub on the tight area of the shoe. There's no harm to the skin, stockings or shoes, and it is effective on suede, alligator and all other shoe leather. Recommended for relief from corns and bunions. And children will get another six weeks wear from outgrown shoes. You'll find it at

Provoo Free On $500 Bond Pending Trial

John David Provoo was released on $500 appearance bond Wednesday after pleading innocent in District Court to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Provoo, 40, had appealed his conviction and $150 fine handed down in County Court in connection with his actions with Robert Lane, 16, of Annapolis, Md. Chief Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrnbruch said Provoo's case may be heard by the jury term scheduled for Oct. 14.

Provoo, former Army sergeant once convicted of treason allegedly accompanied Lane on a cross-country trip without the consent of the boy's parents. They were arrested in Lincoln Sept. 6 in a downtown rooming house after they had been the subject of a nationwide search.

Provoo was found guilty of the contributing charge by County Judge Herbert Ronin after Ronin allowed him to change his earlier plea of guilty to innocent. Provoo was bound over to District Court under $300 bond, but District Judge Harry A. Spencer Wednesday increased the bond to $500 after the arraignment.

Captured by the Japanese during World War II, Provoo was convicted of treason after the war. But a Federal court later set aside the conviction on grounds he had been denied his Constitutional guarantees.

Trailer Court License Fee Refund Ruled

The fees already collected by the Department of Agriculture on 25 licenses issued on mobile home courts and mobile homes, will be returned to the applicants following an attorney general's opinion Wednesday that the law providing for the licensing is unconstitutional.

G. B. Flagg, chief of the Bureau of Dairies and Foods which handled the licensing, said the bureau had issued 25 licenses at $25 each when it had "no idea" that the law would be found unconstitutional.

When it was learned a legal opinion had been requested on the law's constitutionality, the bureau held up action on 125 other applications for licenses, Flagg said.

(For story on the attorney general's opinion, see Page 11.)
